Former Congressman
Of Kentucky Guilty
Of Taking Bribes

ANDREW J. MAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Congressman Andrew J. May was convicted today of selling his influence while war-time chairman of the U.S. House of Representatives military committee.

A federal court jury also convicted munitions makers Henry and Murray Garsson of paying the 72-year-old former Kentucky Congressman more than $50,000 in bribes for favors during the war years.

The three defendants received the verdict calmly. The jury deliberated only an hour and 50 minutes before reaching its verdict, climax of a trial that had lasted 11 weeks. The three counts in the indictment charged that May took money for interceding at the War Department for the $70,000,000 Garsson munitions combine.

The court deferred sentence until later to give the defence an opportunity for appeal motions.

The maximum penalty would be a sentence of six years in prison and $30,000 fine.

Charles J. Margiotti, head of the defence counsel, said he would appeal within five days.

U.S. Miners Appear
Due To Sign Best
Contract In History

WASHINGTON (AP)—John L. Lewis is well on the way today toward setting the best wage contract in the history of his United Mine Workers (A.F.L.), who otherwise would extend their current vacation into a fully-blown strike next Tuesday.

The way some U.S. operators figure the tentative settlement reached late Wednesday by Lewis and top executives of "Big Steel" mine owners and northern commercial producers, the soft coal diggers will get a 44-cent boost in their basic hourly pay rate.

The "pattern" increases negotiated by rival C.I.O. unions in other basic industries earlier this year have been around 15 cents an hour.

The big question remaining, however, is: How many mining companies will accept the agreement?

It is no secret that a big segment of the industry was staggered by the concessions made to Lewis by the eastern producers.

The Midwest, far west and southern mine owners, left out of the secret, top-level settlement negotiations, went into hurried huddles to map their strategy before the U.M.W. policy committee assembles here Saturday.

Some of these operators described the proposed contract as "highly inflationary." They contend it would boost not only the price of coal but of steel and dozens of other items essential to the national economy.

Students Kill Teacher

SHANGHAI (AP)—The Chinese Central News Agency said today that a group of students of Lingnan Middle School at Canton had thrown the school principal down a flight of stairs, causing fatal injuries. The students, the agency said, had demanded that principal Tsai Hu-fu surrender their final examination papers, but he refused.

Captain Aware Vessel Doomed Witness Says

TORONTO (CP)—Capt. Eldon Walkinshaw of Collingwood knew his ship was doomed immediately she struck Canoe Rock in Lake Superior June 4, it was indicated today in evidence given by M. Dedman, chief engineer, of Midland, Ont., at a formal inquiry into the sinking of the Canada Steamship Lines freighter Emperor.

Dedman quoted the ship's master, who lost his life along with 11 members of his crew, as having told him there was no need of an engine anymore and that he had already sent out an SOS. The chief engineer said Capt. Walkinshaw told him this when he (Dedman) reported the engine was out of order.

He said the master had instructed him to take charge aft and that he had gone to the starboard lifeboat, which made a perfect landing in the water after he had ordered it to be lowered.

He told J. J. Robinette, counsel for the Canadian Seamen's Union, it was about 25 minutes from the time the vessel struck until she sank. It was about 10 minutes after the ship struck that he gave instructions for the lifeboats to be put out.

LOOKED AT WATCH

Actual time of the grounding was set by Kenneth Burgess, fourth engineer, of Point Edward, Ont., as only a matter of seconds after 4:15 a.m., E.D.T. He said he had looked at his watch immediately on being awakened by W. Ladue, 27-year-old third engineer, of Colwell Jet, Ont.

Earlier the inquiry had heard Frank Fish, 26, of Parry Sound, Ont., testify he had visited the wheelhouse at about 3:50 a.m. when he found the first mate "apparently dozing" in a chair.

SLUMPED IN CHAIR

"He was slumped in the chair with his head down," Fish told Hugh Plaxton, representing the Department of Transport. "I couldn't see whether his eyes were closed or open."

He told the conversation 20 minutes later in the galley after John Leonard, the wheelhand, had come off watch. Both had agreed that things did not look right in the wheelhouse and Fish had suggested Leonard should go back up to make sure "we are not on the wrong course."

SCENE ON DECK

When the vessel struck the rock, Fish said he got up from his bunk and went to the deck, where "everybody was trying to push the lifeboats over." He said he saw the first mate on the port side. The second mate told the men on the starboard side to leave the lifeboats alone until ordered to abandon ship.

He testified the ropes were tangled and some difficulty was met in stretching them out to clear the ship. The lifeboat fell to the water as the after davit broke, he said. The operation took five to 10 minutes.

Fish said the port lifeboat was "cleared better." He saw two of the women cooks on the main deck. A third had tried to get into the lifeboat, missed, and was floundering about in the water. The second mate was assisting her.

In his opinion, the port boat

$500,000,000 Damage So Far As Mississippi Flood Battle Rages

GRAND TOWER, Ill. (AP)—The fight between man and river continued unabated south of St. Louis today in an effort to save remaining levees while United States army engineers and soil conservators estimated the flood damage along the Mississippi and its overflowing tributaries in Missouri, Iowa and Illinois to be at least $500,000,000.

A survey showed enough soil had been washed downriver to cover 325,000 acres six inches deep.

Meanwhile, at St. Louis, the river fluctuated between the 103-year high of 40.3 and one-tenth of a foot less. A gradual decline was expected soon. Water from the Missouri and Illinois Rivers kept the Mississippi high, he added.

Crack Streamliner Plunges From Indiana Tracks

Passengers who escaped injury when the Baltimore and Ohio's "Columbian" streamliner jumped the track near Alida, Ind., are shown being transferred to a waiting train to continue their passage to Washington, D.C. More than 70 passengers were injured. A defective switch was blamed for the disaster.

Britain Says U.N. Might As Well Quit If Unable To Settle Balkan Question

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—

Britain told the United Nations today that they might as well "tear up the charter—and pack up" if they could not settle the Balkans trouble as recommended by the United States.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, lining up solidly with the United States proposal for a commission to watch the Balkans indefinitely, said in a statement to the Security Council:

"If we cannot apply proposals such as those submitted by the commission (the Balkan investigation commission) and now in the United States resolution, we had better tear up the charter—and pack up."

Sir Alexander referred to the recommendations by the investigation group and the United States proposal for the Security Council to set up a commission to remain indefinitely in the Balkans and try to smooth the differences in that unsettled zone.

DANGER POINT

"It seems to me that here we have a danger point," he continued.

"It is just such a case as the United Nations was designed to meet. We have practical proposals, which can perhaps be perfected and elaborated. We must try them."

Sir Alexander accepted the conclusion of the Balkan Commission holding that Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria mainly were responsible for the Balkan disorders.

Those three countries and the Soviet Union have objected that a border watch commission in the Balkans would hit their sovereign rights.

"In these days sovereign rights do not retain their pristine inviolability," said Sir Alexander. "In the course of time many international conventions have been entered into, and each one of these detracts, in lesser or greater degree, from national sovereignty. . . . If it was desired to maintain sovereign rights inviolate, that ought to have been thought of (when the charter was drafted) at San Francisco."

BITTER DEBATE

The Security Council embarked last week on what promises to be a long and bitter debate on the commission's report, in which a majority of the 11 members decided that Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria were chiefly to blame for the Balkan disorders.

Warren R. Austin, chief United States delegate, charged in a sharp speech last Friday that Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania were causing the trouble, but those countries have denied both the commission and Austin's accusation.

Nanaimo Miners End Protest Strike

NANAIMO (CP)—Hundreds of coal miners and lumber workers, whose voluntary holiday closed mines and camps here Wednesday, were back on the job today.

The holiday was declared in protest against prosecution of 30 union officials and laundry workers, charged with calling an illegal strike under the new British Columbia labor code.

The two mines of Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Ltd. were back in operation, all of the 500 workers on the job with the exception of a "few stragglers," officials reported.

The strikers, who walked out June 9 when the Imperial Laundry Company dismissed two women workers for being absent without permission, are on remand until July 10.

Trawler Sinks Off Jordan River

Suffering from exposure and bruises when his trawler Karmar went aground at Boulder Beach, four miles west of Jordan River, Tom Jones of Otter Point Camp, Sooke, was reported to be recuperating at St. Joseph's Hospital today.

Provincial Police said Mr. Jones narrowly escaped drowning when his boat went aground in a heavy sea. He swam to shore but was battered against rocks before he managed to climb to safety.

Mr. Jones for taken to St. Joseph's Hospital Thursday night, where his condition is reported to be improving.

Approve Coal Board

OTTAWA (CP)—The Senate natural-resources committee today approved a bill setting up a Dominion coal board to administer subsidies and subventions to the coal industry. The bill had been previously passed by the Commons.

Invite Nations To Meeting On U.S. Aid Plan

PARIS (AP)—The French Foreign Office announced today that 22 powers will be invited to a meeting in Paris July 12 to discuss European economic co-operation as outlined in the Marshall proposal.

The countries invited will include Austria, Turkey, Albania, Eire and all former enemy states except Germany, it was announced. A Foreign Office spokesman said the invitations would be sent out tonight.

The Foreign Ministry had announced earlier a British-French decision to invite all European states, "with the provisional exception of Spain," to take part in drafting a reply to the proposal advanced by State Secretary Marshall of the United States for European economic recovery.

The communique called on the European countries to "draw up a European reconstruction program in which the resources and needs of each country will be co-ordinated, in a manner that each of the European countries will so decide freely."

These happenings dramatized the disagreement over the plan between Britain and France on the one hand and Russia on the other. The two western powers undertook to make the plan work without the Soviet Union despite the fears of some that Europe thereby might be split further into eastern and western spheres.

Molotov and his party left by air for Moscow at the same time that Bevin went to the French Foreign Ministry.

RUSSIA NOT MENTIONED

The communique made no reference to Soviet Russia, nor to the failure Wednesday of Russia, Britain and France to agree on the Marshall aid-Europe proposal.

Use of the term "provisional" in excluding Spain appeared to indicate that the final decision on whether Spain would permanently be outside any economic agreement reached would rest with an international "temporary organization" which the communique said the British and French proposed to establish.

Foreign Secretary Bevin and Foreign Minister Bidault conferred at length this morning, emphasizing the break with Russia over the Marshall suggestion, as Foreign Minister Molotov left for home.

We Always Make Progress—Bevin

Bevin's talk with Bidault lasted two hours 12 minutes, ending during the afternoon, Paris time.

Asked whether they had made any progress, Bevin said: "We're always making progress."

The British and French Foreign Ministers looked grave as they reached the front entrance of the French Foreign office, but not pessimistic.

Anglo-French invitations to European countries to take part in the economic planning will be issued as soon as possible, it was learned.

The proposed steering committee, it was believed, would be composed of Britain, France, one representative of Benelux (Belgium, Netherlands and Luxembourg), one Scandinavian country, and one representative of eastern European states, if these states accept the invitation to join.

In Bern, members of the Swiss government said they were studying the situation in view of the Soviet position and probably would make their reaction known tomorrow. Informed sources speculated that Switzerland would adopt a cautious, middle-of-the-road policy because of a growing trade with Poland, Czechoslovakia and the Balkans.

A French Foreign Office spokesman, meanwhile, said Molotov did not visit Bidault before his departure, but that Jacques Dumaine, chief of protocol, made a courtesy call to the Russian Foreign Minister on behalf of the French government.

A Russian source said that probably most of the big Soviet delegation was aboard the five Soviet planes which took off in the darkness of this morning. The informants said Molotov "was in a hurry" to get back to Moscow.

Economic Conflict Seems Certain

WASHINGTON (AP)—Poland, France, Italy and Czechoslovakia appear destined to get caught in the middle of the expected economic conflict between Russia and the western powers over the economic organization of Europe under the Marshall plan.

The breakdown of the Paris conference Wednesday and Foreign Minister Molotov's assertion that the Marshall proposal means the division of Europe left little doubt among diplomatic authorities here that such a conflict would develop.

The squeeze almost certainly would be most intense in four countries for these reasons:

Poland—The Polish government already has notified the U.S. State Department of its adherence to the Marshall plan. Yet Poland is in the Soviet's sphere of influence, and Russian troops operate there in support of their occupation forces in Germany.

Poland faces a grain deficit of 200,000 tons by October. If Molotov's Paris statement is taken at face value, the Soviet government is expected to turn thumbs down on Polish economic co-operation with the west despite the economic interests of the Polish people.

France—As one of the co-sponsors with Britain of the European effort to develop a joint economic program, France is a key point in the organization of western Europe. It is also the home of a powerful Communist party. Thus

Commons Gets Through Estimates Slowly; Extra Sitzings Likely

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons covered ground Wednesday—from soil pipe to leaky railway stations in the west and from newsprint to merchant seamen—but made little progress down an order paper crowded with legislation that stands between it and prorogation.

But behind the scenes there was a glimmer of hope for an end to the session by July 12. Party leaders met privately and it was indicated the House would sit next Saturday and would open morning sittings next week.

Progressive Conservative members opposed amendments to the government-owned Canadian Commercial Corporation to have it buy supplies for the Defence Department. After a time-consuming legal argument, the Opposition forced a vote, but the measure passed by a 119 to 42 count through second reading, with C.C.F. and Social Credit members voting with the government. The bill later was given third and final reading.

TRANSPORT ESTIMATES
At night, the House was delayed again during consideration of Transport Department estimates as individual members brought up the needs of their constituencies and a debate developed over treatment of Canada's merchant seamen.

In a last spurt, the House got through only about 15 items in the bulky Transport Department estimates list.

The House gave first reading to legislation to establish a benevolent fund for army veterans of the Second World War and to implement financial agreements entered into by the government and all provinces except Ontario and Quebec. But the bill showed provision had been made for the two central provinces should they later sign agreements.

The legislation would thus eliminate the necessity of bringing in a new bill should Ontario and Quebec sign agreements at some future date.

A section of the bill outlines the minimum payments that would go to the provinces on their agreeing to give the Dominion practically exclusive use of the income, corporation and inheritance tax fields. The minimum payments for Ontario and Quebec are listed in this section.

The minimum payments to the provinces under the agreements that would terminate in 1951 would be as follows:

Alberta, $14,227,882; British Columbia, $18,120,124; Manitoba, $13,540,038; New Brunswick, $8,773,420; Nova Scotia, $10,870,140; Ontario, $67,158,027; Prince Edward Island, $2,100,000; Quebec, $36,382,127; and Saskatchewan, $15,291,490.

ACT OF ONE POWER

Disappointment that Canada was prevented by "one power" from participating in drafting peace treaties was expressed in the Senate by Senator John T. Haig, Progressive Conservative leader.

Senator Haig voiced his objection as the Upper Chamber gave formal approval to draft peace treaties with Italy, Romania, Hungary, and Finland in a sitting which also saw the passage of several Commons bills through second reading.

Ford Breaks With Foremen's Union

DETROIT (AP)—The Ford Motor Company today withdrew its recognition of the Foremen's Association of America, an independent union, as bargaining agent for 3,800 striking supervisory employees.

In a letter to Robert H. Keys, F.A.A. president, John S. Bugas, vice-president and director of Ford public relations, said:

"Our experience with the Foremen's Association of America has forced us to the conclusion that management unions in this company are unsound in principle and unworkable in practice."

Under terms of the Taft-Hartley labor law, Ford would not be required to recognize the foremen's union after Aug. 22, when the new act becomes effective.

Although the company has had no contract with the foremen since May 9, it repeatedly expressed willingness in the past to deal with those foremen who belonged to the union.

The strike began May 21 after Ford had declined an F.A.A. request that it represent all supervisory employees in Ford's plants.

Vancouver Crowds Waterfront To See Huge U.S.S. Iowa

VANCOUVER (CP)—Hundreds of Vancouver residents made their way towards this west coast port's waterfront today to go aboard and inspect the pride of the United States navy—the 53,000-ton Iowa, mightiest warship afloat.

Wednesday night more than 10,000 persons, one of the largest crowds ever gathered along the waterfront here, welcomed the majestic ship as she passed beneath the Lions' Gate Bridge with her 2,178-man crew smartly at attention on her main deck and dropped anchor off Ballantyne Pier for a four-day goodwill visit. She will be open to the public.

SALUTE FIRED

Before entering the inner harbor she fired a 21-gun salute.

The Iowa's superstructure seemed to tower against the mountain backdrop as she moved into the harbor, her lofty mast barely clearing the 260-foot high Lions' Gate Bridge.

Under command of Capt. T. M. Stokes, U.S. Navy Cross hero of 30 years' naval service, the 888-foot vessel is on a two months' training cruise of midshipmen from U.S. colleges.

A traffic jam, described by police as one of the greatest in the history of Stanley Park, occurred Wednesday night as thousands of cars lined all park traffic arteries almost an hour before the vessel hove into sight.

As scores of small harbor craft clustered about the vessel and ships of all shapes and sizes added the shrill blasts of their whistles to the welcome roar from the thousands lining the waterfront, Capt. Stokes and his crew proclaimed the welcome the "warmest we have ever received."

HUNTED TIRPITZ

Although she was not launched until Aug. 27, 1942, the Iowa has seen service in both Atlantic and Asiatic waters, beginning her famous career with the Tirpitz watch in the north Atlantic. Later she took President Roosevelt to north Africa for the historic Casablanca conference.

She began the march across the Pacific by hitting Kwajalein and Eniwetok with her 24-mile range guns and spearheaded attacks in Dutch New Guinea, Ponape, Saipan, Guam and Okinawa, besides bagging a Japanese cruiser in the battle of the Pacific.

Afghanistan Asks Border Territory

LONDON (Reuter)—The government of Afghanistan is reviving its claims on the Northwest Frontier Province of India, a Foreign Office spokesman said Wednesday.

A note from Kabul claiming the greater part of the territory between the river Indus and the present Indo-Afghan frontier was received in the Foreign Office in the second week of June, and is being studied.

A reply would be made along with one by the government of India, which had received a similar note, the spokesman added.

Though the Afghan move can be sufficiently explained by the wish to recover territory lost in the former wars, at a moment when the whole territorial and constitutional future of India is in the melting pot, diplomatic observers here were recalling that in April, 1946, the Soviet periodical New Times stressed the ethnical similarity of the tribes on both sides of the Afghan-Indian frontier.

Mass Parades Mark Court Hearing On Strike At Nanaimo

NANAIMO (CP)—Act two of Labor Department prosecutions of 30 persons connected with the Imperial Laundry strike was staged here today.

The large room was crowded to capacity and hundreds of others packed hallways and stairways.

The hearing, which did not proceed beyond preparatory stages for what is to be a long-drawn and bitterly contested attack and defence of the new provincial Industrial Conciliation Act, was preceded and followed by mass street demonstrations.

While the 30 persons accused were in court, their place on the laundry picket line was taken by a parade of about 110 union men and women.

The hearing, continued under a stay of proceedings until July 10, was followed by another and larger parade, the marchers singing songs and carrying placards.

FIVE JUVENILES

Five girls were moved from the police court's summons list when they told the court they were juveniles and consequently could not be prosecuted except in juvenile court proceedings.

In their cases adjournment until July 10 was ordered and they were excused from attendance in police court.

Magistrate Lionel Beevor-Potts announced that he had been served with a writ issued by Mr. Justice Coady prohibiting him from proceeding with the specific charge against Nanaimo Dry Cleaners and Laundry Workers Local No. 1 as a unit.

The exclusion of five of the girls on account of their minority in years was the first surprise Defence Counsel R. J. McMaster developed for F. S. Cunliffe, special Crown Prosecutor, who admitted the surprise element and did not oppose their exclusion. The girls were Frances Parkin, 16; Alice Bowater, 17; Jane Meek, 17; Mona Karliski, 17, and Jean Smith, 17.

Next Mr. McMaster entered pleas of not guilty for the remaining 22 girls, charged that they did unlawfully strike without proper reference being made to the Arbitration and Conciliation Board.

The court ordered a stay of proceedings while the Crown's four questions are on reference to the arbitration board. It was understood that from July 10 on, if necessary, there should be a series of eight-day remands until such time as the matter is cleared up and proceedings may again proceed.

Next came the charges against Dan Radford, organizer; Percy Lawson, bargaining agent, and Eula Patterson, president of the Union local, that of "authorizing an illegal strike." The defence asked the court for "severance" so that each of the defendants might have a separate trial, entering not guilty plea for each of the three. The Crown opposed the separate trials and the issue will be settled later.

The two coal mines of Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Ltd. were closed today with 500 men staying off the job.

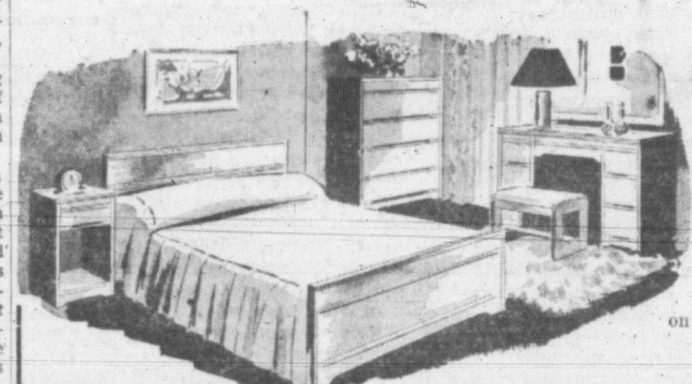

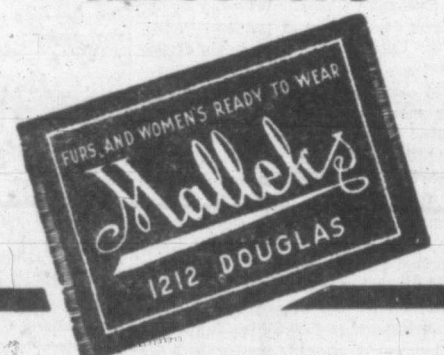

Company officials believe the men stayed away in protest over the trial of 27 striking laundry workers here.

Haifa Bank Looted

JERUSALEM (AP)—Seven men robbed a bank in Haifa Wednesday and made a getaway in a black automobile. They were believed to have taken several hundred dollars.

The Jewish underground organization, Hagana, declared meanwhile that Arab propaganda had created a "dangerous trend of feeling in Arab quarters" and said it was on guard against possible attacks against Jews.

DIVIDING EAST AND WEST

RUSSIA'S REFUSAL TO COLLABORATE
with Great Britain and France in the economic interests of continental Europe on the basis of the plan which United States Secretary of State Marshall proclaimed at Harvard on June 5 has produced a reaction in both London and Paris that will surprise nobody. The Anglo-French communique issued this afternoon foreshadows the only practical course open to the major democratic powers in the Old World—that is, to get together, fashion a working program of reconstruction, and avail themselves of the financial and other aid which the Washington administration has manifested its willingness to extend. It now remains to be seen how many of the continental nations are ready to help themselves in the wider realm of co-operative effort—a basic condition of the Harvard pronouncement.

While the Soviet Union's envoy refused his country's important contribution to the implementation of the American scheme, he must have known when he declared that the Anglo-French proposals "would lead to no good results" he was simply talking through his hat. We have no desire to be flippant in a discussion about the conference such as the one which failed to produce material results in Paris. But why should Mr. Molotov use five pages of type-script to tell the world that the British-French proposals constituted a threat to the economic independence and sovereignty of the small European states? Why did he not say that any economic and political understanding for Europe under the aegis of the United States with Anglo-French collaboration would have spoiled the little game which the men in charge at the Kremlin have in mind for several states now shivering in a political vacuum?

The peoples of the western democracies, also the freedom-loving populace of the British Commonwealth of Nations, must now make up their minds to the fact that Russian policy henceforward will be determined solely by what political and economic considerations suit the oligarchy at the Kremlin. Perhaps it is just as well that the rest of the world should realize at this stage how little of practical value in the way of peaceful co-operation can be expected from the Soviet Union. This is a melancholy conclusion to reach; but, as we have said in these columns many times before, those who earnestly desire to be friendly with the people of Russia—even the government at Moscow—are finding it increasingly difficult to mesh their thought processes with the totalitarian concept of how people should live.

In other words, it all boils down to this: Is Russia going to shut the door against any practical plans put forward by the western democracies in the interests of universal peace in order to push her technique of bringing as much as she can of that section of Europe east of the Oder under her own domination? The attitude of Mr. Molotov at the Paris meeting of the three Foreign Ministers indicates she is prepared to do just that. Hence it is high time to clear the air.

MALTHUS AGAIN

A CENTURY AND ONE-HALF AGO
Thomas Robert Malthus propounded his theory of over-population. Roughly it set forth the argument that a rising birth rate would outstrip production of foodstuffs and lead to an impoverishment that could be overcome only through the calamities which claimed lives in great numbers and thereby restored the balance between available subsistence and mouths that had to be fed. In the western world, his thesis has generally been discounted on the grounds that every new mouth to be fed was accompanied by two hands that could further agricultural output, and that new developments in production would overcome the scarcities. In sections of the Orient, however, his submissions have been refuted in theory only. In practice, the case he set forth still appears to carry weight.

Against this background Mrs. Margaret Sanger, American birth control pioneer, has proposed that Britain should ban babies for the next 10 years, her argument being that "It's pretty certain that the world won't be able to produce enough food to support any more babies for at least 10 years." She further advocates action by the United Nations to recommend baby quotas for all countries.

The suggestion has, of course, stirred a hornet's nest in Britain. That country needs manpower. It has suffered the loss of a large section of its young male population during the war and it needs the pulsing stream of young blood continuously to renew its vitality. Logical as it may seem to reduce the number of mouths when there is insufficient food to go round, the nation can scarcely afford to create a hiatus in its natural population increase. The disruption arising from the elimination of a generation would further impede the steady recovery of any land.

Moreover, it has been noted that countries with higher living standards tend to smaller families. The contrast between birth rates in the so-called western civilization and some sections of the east offers substantial proof of that point. How, then, could a nation like Britain stem its flow of babies and avoid being engulfed by the flood or new population in the Orient?

Can Mrs. Sanger ignore the justifiable calls of Britain, France and other nations in Western Europe for more hands to push forward the work of reconstruction, as well as the needs of less populated countries like Canada for immigration, in order to support her modernized version of the Malthusian theory? It would appear that what is required today is not a reduction in the number of babies, with all that means to the family, the community and the nation, but a vast increase in output of food and the necessities of life. And who will say, having weighed the possibilities in Canada, Australia and other nations, that the potentialities for that increase are not available?

READY TO GO

THERE WILL BE GENERAL SATISFACTION over the city assessor's report that tax payments in Victoria so far this year are well over the sum collected during the first six months of 1946, even though the current rate is higher. The record shows that not only are Victorians generally in a better position to pay their tax levies, but they are also in a frame of mind conducive to early "squaring up" with the city tax office.

Taken in conjunction with the recent demonstration of Victoria citizens' desire to incur the costs of better school facilities, and the progressive frame of mind evidenced by popular support of the bus franchise, it appears that this city is not only alive to the trend of postwar developments in this young and vigorous country, but also willing and able to take advantage of opportunities as they are presented. Victoria has been through a long period of stagnation as far as civic improvement is concerned—enforced by circumstances during the war and imposed by over-cautiousness prior to that. The way is now open to make up for lost ground, and indications are that the citizens are ready to co-operate.

THE BALKAN TEST

"TO PRACTICE TOLERANCE AND LIVE together in peace with one another as good neighbors, and to unite our strength to maintain international peace and security..." Thus saith part of the preamble of the United Nations Charter. Russia was one of the sponsors of the conference in San Francisco at which that document was drawn up—and signed by her before it was presented to a hopeful world a trifle more than two years ago.

Beginning with his obstructionist tactics while in the city by the Golden Gate, continuing them at the various meetings of the "Big Four" Foreign Ministers, Mr. Molotov—speaking for the men of the Kremlin—seems determined to do nothing to further the basic objects of the United Nations unless such action completely fits the pattern as drawn up and amended from time to time by the Communist architects in Moscow. The Balkan situation, now under consideration at Lake Success, has given Mr. Gromyko ample opportunity to reflect his chief's attitude toward this and other matters threatening the principle of uniting "strength to maintain international peace and security." So incensed at the stubbornness of the Russian attitude did Sir Alexander Cadogan, Britain's permanent member of the Security Council, become today that he declared: "If we cannot apply proposals such as those submitted by the Commission (The Balkan Investigation Commission) and now in the United States resolution, we had better tear up the Charter—and pack up."

The Balkan situation has presented the United Nations' Security Council with a problem of potential seriousness, but which in the present stage is confined to a more or less restricted area. It therefore gives the global organization a chance to show its powers, not only in deciding what should be done but in carrying out and enforcing the consequences of its decision. As it was expressed by a British source, if the United Nations cannot exert preventive action in the case of the Balkans, it will be a sad day for the organization—and the world.

RAISING THE INDEX

DESPITE THE ALLEGATIONS OF union officials that the Taft-Hartley labor bill has "enslaved" the United States workingman, there appears to have been no lessening of the weight which John L. Lewis carries in his bargaining forays against the mine owners. A news item today reveals that the United Mine Workers' boss has obtained agreement from some of the larger coal mine operators to what will amount to a wage increase of 44 and one-half cents in the basic hourly rate.

The weapon used in negotiations was extension of the current mining "holiday" into a fullscale strike next week unless the demands were met. On the present computation, the pay boost obtained by the U.M.W. far exceeds the average 15-cent increase which C.I.O. affiliates in basic industries negotiated earlier this year. Although the increase has not yet been accepted by the coal industry in general, it appears to have been given the sanction of the "big steel" mine owners and northern commercial producers. It needs no imagination to foresee the heavy impetus which such a wage increase would impart to rising prices if it should gain country-wide effect. The spiral of inflation would have reached a still higher level.

Walter Lippmann

HOW CAN IT BE DONE?

AS THE EUROPEAN governments work on the idea broached by Secretary Marshall in his Harvard speech, and as the three committees set up in the United States by President Truman begin their inquiries, it may be useful to define—if we can—the practical criterion by which the whole effort is likely in the end to be judged.

In Europe the universal questions are: What does the United States government expect us to do to justify our right to assistance, and will Congress and the American people provide that assistance when the President and the Secretary of State recommend it?

In the U.S., the question is how much can the United States afford to provide, and will Congress and the people approve the official estimates of what could and should be provided?

THE BEST ANSWER to these questions is to say that what America expects of the European governments is an agreed program of rehabilitation which is, as respects the American grants-in-aid, self-liquidating over a definite and reasonably short term of years.

Thus it will not be enough for them to add up their prospective dollar deficits for the coming year, and present that to the United States as a statement of their needs. For the Administration and Congress are bound to reply that covering the European deficit for 1948 is not good enough if it means that the same deficit will have to be covered again in 1949, and in 1950, and so on endlessly. The hallmark of a satisfactory plan is one which shows how by the judicious use of American grants-in-aid in 1948, the deficit will be smaller in 1949, still smaller in 1950, and overcome entirely at some date thereafter.

THE EUROPEAN PROGRAM must, in other words, be one in which the American subsidy is applied to the improvement of European production and trade in such a way as to do away with the need for American subsidies. Such a program will not be a dole but an investment of working capital that makes Europe self-supporting and solvent.

If such a program can be formulated and agreed to, the other questions can be answered with confidence. There is no real doubt whatsoever that the United States can afford to underwrite the diminishing deficits of such a liquidating program. The total cost, the total drain upon American resources each year, would not be so much as the cost and drain of the last war each month. But what, on the other hand, the United States cannot afford is to become engaged in paying out even relatively small sums endlessly and without hope of finishing with it, to help friends and allies live at a subsistence level.

THE UNITED STATES can afford all that it will take to make them self-supporting if they have united to help themselves. But spiritually and politically she cannot afford to dole out charity to each of them separately. The atmosphere of the world will be poisoned if great and proud peoples were made to feel that they are to subsist on American charity.

If the kind of program which meets these general criteria is worked out, and if it has been approved after rigorous examination by American technicians, industrialists and financial experts, there is no need to be afraid of the final decision of Congress. The Congress will have to be shown that the program is genuine, that the estimates are conservative, that the calculations are reliable.

BUT IF THE PLAN IS SOUND enough to work, it will be convincing enough to be approved by that great majority of the people and of their representatives in both parties who want more than they want any other thing from public life—a peace which proves that this war was not fought in vain and that it does not have to be fought all over again.

Who Was It?

From a letter to The Times of London, from William Kent, Editor of the Encyclopaedia of London:

NOW THAT "EROS" is returning to Piccadilly Circus with such astonishing acclamation, it is fitting to ask who gave the aluminum figure that title?

In the reports of the unveiling in four London morning newspapers (June 30, 1893), there is no mention of "Eros." One reporter refers to "a winged genius shooting an arrow. Another said: 'The fountain is purely symbolical, and is illustrative of Christian charity.' A third, more explicitly, wrote of it as:

"An entirely allegorical figure expressive of the swiftness with which an ever bright and growing charity runs to succour the needy. The figure is not intended for a Mercury, or a Ganymede, or any other classical personage. It is charity, flying swift as an arrow to help."

The L.C.C. volume on Outdoor Memorials makes no reference to "Eros."

It has always seemed odd that the Earl of Shaftesbury should be commemorated by a figure of the god-of-love. He might rather have sympathized with the correspondent of a Sunday paper a few months ago who protested against the return "of that erotic statue," and added, "the nymphs and fauns who flit about there may welcome their old pagan god, but I am sure that respectable people want to have nothing to do with him." However, it appears that he and most other Londoners have been under a misapprehension. Somebody gave that winged creature a nick-name. Who was it?

'How About Getting A Rail And Helping Out?'

Norway Rebuilding Fish Markets

Norway Digest

Norsk Frossenflisk (Norwegian Frozen Fish Inc.), the export organization set up by Norwegian fish freezing firms in January of 1947 has estimated that frozen fish sales abroad will reach 50,000,000 kr. ($10,000,000) during 1947. European sales have been considerable, with 4,500 tons already sold to Russia; Austria has received 1,650 tons, Italy 2,000 tons and France has placed orders for 3,000 tons. A recent contract concluded with Britain calls for delivery of between 45,000 tons during the present year.

Considerable success has already been achieved in popularizing whale meat on European markets. Private British importers have contracted for the whole 1947 exportable whale meat surplus, estimated at some 1,000 tons, and Norsk Frossenflisk is seeking to establish the new food item as a branded, high-quality product. The meat is pre-sliced, frozen and packed into two and ten-pound cartons, and sealed in cellophane. Purchasers sampling the product describe it as excellent and sales abroad have born out earlier prediction of a popular reception.

Apart from Britain, Italy too has bought some of Norway's whale meat and a campaign is now under way to popularize the product in Sweden. The exporting organization is taking great pains to guarantee the quality of Norwegian frozen fish and whale meat exports. Experts often accompany shipments to receiving ports, and valuable experience is constantly being gained in new packing, shipping, and distribution methods.

Norsk Frossenflisk now has 10 refrigerator-ships of from 120 to 500 tons with delivery of four more 500-ton vessels expected shortly. This tonnage is seen sufficient to handle present exports to Britain and the continent. Overland frozen fish transport, is also being developed. On June 3, two 5-ton refrigerated trucks loaded with assorted frozen fish left Larvik in southern Norway and arrived in Switzerland four days later. Fish exporters are carefully watching this experiment with an eye toward increased over-land transport to European countries. The trucks are specially equipped for the long overland haul, and the fish is held at constant freezing temperature.

State Aid For Colonial Commerce

U.K. Information Office

"THE GOVERNMENT have been considering the means of developing colonial resources."

Mr. Creech Jones, Secretary of State for Colonies, told the United Kingdom House of Commons last week. "They consider that there is need for the improvement of the machinery for this purpose. The Colonial Development and Welfare Act provides money for the improvement of the social and other services of the colonies and helps to provide the basic services for further economic development in the form of improved communications, better agricultural services, water supplies and the like. This has been and is very useful. But it is not enough. An instrument is also required whereby we can undertake individual productive projects likely to increase the wealth of the colonies themselves and to stimulate the supply of products of which Britain and the world at large stand in need."

"The government therefore propose to establish a Colonial Development Corporation with total borrowing powers of £100 million ($400 million). It will operate on commercial principles. Its object will be to establish or assist any enterprise in the colonies which is designed to increase their general productive capacity. No doubt these enterprises will be mainly agricultural, but the corporation will be able to undertake any enterprise which serves the general object."

"We propose that the corporation should be given power to conduct enterprises itself, or to set up subsidiary organizations to run individual projects or to give assistance to existing enterprises."

"The corporation would undertake particular operations in any colonial territory only with the consent of the Secretary of State and the colonial government concerned. The intention is that the corporation and its subsidiaries should operate generally in close consultation with colonial governments, in order to ensure that their activities are conducted in the way best suited to promote the welfare of colonial peoples."

"There would of course be no question of giving the corporation any general monopoly in colonial development. It is not intended to supplant private enterprise but to supplement it. While the government will continue its policy of encouraging public utilities and other suitable forms of public enterprise, it will also welcome private enterprise and investment in the colonies so long as it is in harmony with the plans of the colonial governments for social and economic development."

Letters To The Editor

VISCOUNT BENNETT

After reading your very fine tribute to the late Viscount Richard Bedford Bennett, in your editorial—a tribute I feel sure most Canadians will appreciate and endorse—I thought I would like to draw attention to another trait in his character often overlooked.

You finish your editorial, sir, with the words—"He was a good Canadian." I think it could also be said—"He was a good Christian gentleman."

It has been my privilege to read many of his fine addresses, given in England, during and since the war years in connection with various religious movements, and especially in connection with the World's Evangelical Alliance. In one of his addresses, on "The Challenge of the War to Christianity and the Churches," he began: "Do not let us delude ourselves. This war was commenced in so-called Christian Europe—I know that some of you are asking yourselves—

"Why it is that after 19 centuries of Christian civilization we should still resort to war?" He concluded:

"I am convinced that unless we can stimulate a more active spiritual attitude of mind on the part of the people of this kingdom, many of our sacrifices made during the war will have been made in vain. The peace of the world and the dignity of man, his personality, and all the improved social conditions that must come, can only, in my opinion, be brought about and endure when men accept the spiritual concept of life, and the obligations and responsibilities therein involved."

GIRLS' DRILL TEAM

The above girls recently attended the Rose Show in Portland. Capt. N. Foster did a wonderful job, and the treatment in Portland was pleasant indeed. But what the team put up with to get there was not so good, although no fault of Capt. Foster.

The team of 32 left Victoria on the 5.30 p.m. Seattle boat, and on arrival at that port were conveyed to a train. As inadequate arrangements had been made they were forced to sit up all night. The girls who slept at all did so on the floor. During the following week they had 20 odd engagements to fulfill and no doubt were in need of all the sleep they could get. Many of the girls were ill and doubtless lack of sleep was a contributing factor.

We in Victoria are extremely proud of this splendid body of precision-trained girls and feel they deserve better treatment than they received on this recent trip.

FORGOTTEN SOMETHING

London (Ont.) Free Press
American politician would deport Charles Chaplin to England on the ground that "his life is detrimental to the normal fabric of America." He seems to forget that Charlie lives in Hollywood.

CAN DO IT AGAIN

Ottawa Journal
A time will come, says Mr. Herbert Morrison, when we will smile to remember "the moans of the Jeremiahs abroad and the whines of the faint hearts at home." Britain will surmount this crisis as she has surmounted many others in her long history.

UP TO US

Letter to Picture Post
You are one of the very few papers having the courage to tell the public the unpleasant truth: that it is the untiring efforts of each one of us, which will put the country on its feet again. If we choose sitting, slacking and grumbling instead of working and sweating, the resultant poverty will be on our heads.

HITCHING RIDES

Windsor Star
Truck drivers are not old menies just because they refuse permission to children to ride behind. There is the question of liability in case of accident and the driver does not want to be caught in the middle by a legal suit. The old game of hitching rides on wagons and sleighs was fine. But, that was before life became so complicated.

THE RUHR

Washington Post
The World Bank's expression of interest in a development scheme in the Ruhr is an event of considerable significance. President McCloy is reported as saying that the Ruhr is the key to European reconstruction. Such a statement from the World Bank head indicates that if the nations concerned could get together in the establishment of a Ruhr coal authority, finance would be forthcoming. A feature of the new suggestion is that the authority should give ample operating powers to one man. It is evidently the feeling that the coal czar should be an American who could introduce modern methods of mining operation.

Global Survey

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
A.P. Foreign Affairs Analyst

RUSSIA'S rejection of the Marshall program for European economic rehabilitation is good news for western democracy.

It is good because it removes a terrible handicap of uncertainty which has been impeding world peace and recovery.

Now please don't misunderstand. The ideal for which all people of goodwill have labored would be unity of purpose among the nations, and especially among the major powers upon whom rests the main responsibility for global welfare.

However, with each passing day since the end of the war it has become increasingly clear that the way of totalitarian communism was not that of western democracy. Moreover, western suspicions that the Soviet Union was bent on communizing the world have grown as Moscow has brought nation after nation in Europe and Asia within its zone of domination.

State Secretary Marshall's economic proposal has forced the showdown.

CARDS TABLED

The western allies tabled their cards when that altruistic proposal was made, and was agreed to by Britain and France. Then the Anglo-French pair extended an invitation to Russia to join, thus leaving Moscow the choice of three courses to pursue.

1. To accept and go all-out in an effort to make the program work, thereby encouraging belief that, after all, Communism and other isms could collaborate.
2. To join with tongue in cheek and then try to scuttle the ship.
3. To reject co-operation, thereby widening the breach between east and west.

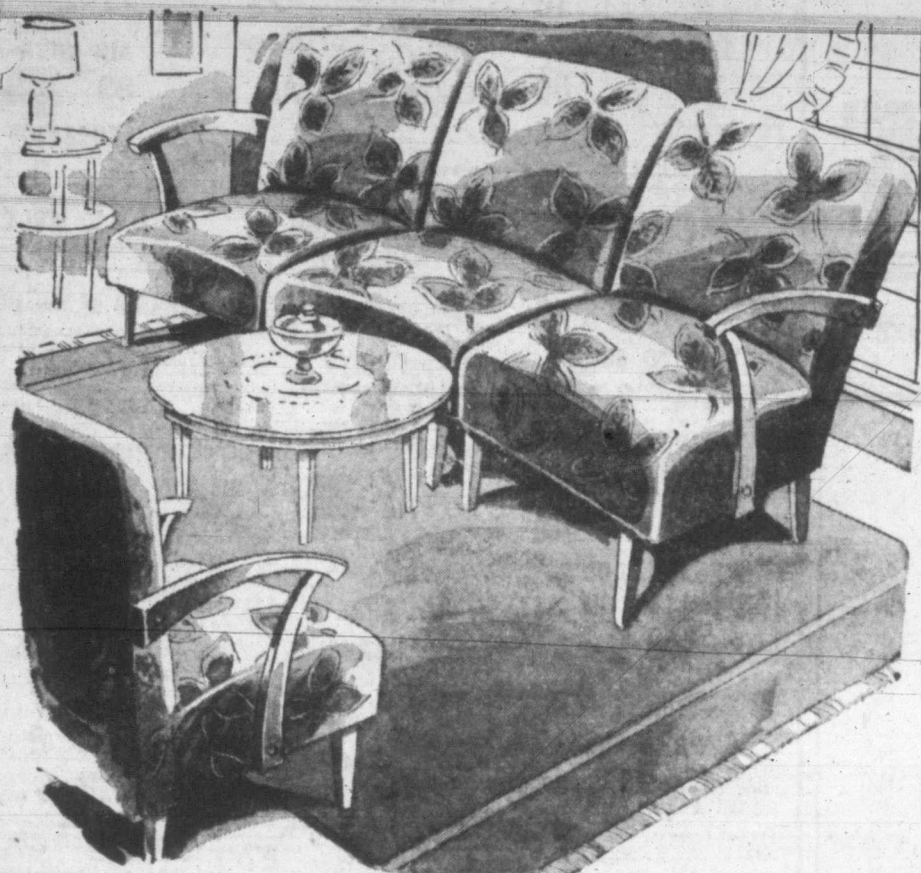

The Soviet Union has chosen the third course. Foreign Minister Molotov in turning down the proposal declared that it "would lead to interference in the internal affairs of European countries." Moscow previously had charged that the United States was using this plan as a subterfuge for extending its own influence in Europe—an accusation which Marshall has branded as "fantastic" and "malicious."

So it's to be non-co-operation—unless Russia has an unexpected change of heart. At long last we know exactly where we stand and we can plan accordingly.

Veregin Crowned Michael Archangel At Island Community

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP)—"Michael the Archangel" has been crowned the new leader of the spiritual community of Christ.

Michael Veregin, 64, is the official leader of the group of Doukhobours who broke away from the radical "Sons of Freedom" branch in British Columbia's Kootenay a year ago.

This group of 65 men, women and children who have renounced conventional marriage, are living a simple, communal life dedicated to the conquest of human selfishness in the wooded settlement of Hillier, on Vancouver Island, 35 miles north of here.

The rites of crowning the man who was once a rooming-house operator in Vancouver were held in the open air soon after Tuesday's sunrise, on Canada's 80th birthday of the nation which has been home to these people for almost half a century.

The new leader was born in Russia. After living in the Caucasus for 17 years he moved to Canada in 1900, being among the first arrivals of Doukhobours.

For some years he operated a general store and later a Doukhobour grain elevator at Buchanan, Sask.

The "archangel" told his followers at the 90-minute coronation ceremony of a "new era" having begun. He promised that "there shall be no more suffering because we have been found worthy."

After a long discussion it was decided to keep the salaries as they are for the present, subject to change.

Midshipmen Dance On Quarterdeck At College Follows Graduation

Capt. Wallace B. Creery, C.B.E., R.C.N., and Mrs. Creery greet their son, Midshipman T. W. H. Creery, a member of the graduating class, with his dance partner, Miss Margaret Ogle, at the ball on Wednesday evening.

A full moon in a starlit sky, strings of colored lights in the trees interspersed with many fluttering pennants, gave a festive air to the college block at Royal Canadian Naval College, Wednesday evening for the ball which followed graduation ceremonies earlier in the afternoon.

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Banks were among the dancers. Also Rear Admiral E. Rolly Mainguy, O.B.E., R.C.N., and Mrs. Mainguy.

Capt. Wallace B. Creery, C.B.E., R.C.N., commanding officer at the college, with Mrs. Creery, Cadet Capt. Robert A. F. Montgomery and Miss Janet Edwards, Ottawa, received cadets, their parents and friends at the foot of the winding stairway leading to the quarter deck.

Gunnery rooms, transformed for the occasion with ship's lanterns and flickering candles made ideal "sitting out" rooms. Supper was served at midnight in the cadets' wardroom from the long oak tables where young midshipmen had sat for meals during their college term.

Len Acre's orchestra played all the college favorites, including "After Graduation Day," and the ever-popular "Linda." Miss Julie Heyes was soloist with the orchestra.

Cadet Capt. R. A. F. Montgomery, winner of the H. E. Sellers officer-of-the-watch telescope awarded to the cadet who has served in his senior year at the college as chief cadet captain, and Miss Janet Edwards of Ottawa. Cadet Capt. Montgomery and Miss Edwards were in the receiving line with Capt. and Mrs. Creery.

P.T.A. News

Otter Point—A 500 party was held at the home of vice-president, Mrs. Warren Kennedy. Among new guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Davies, Mrs. W. Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Anderson. Next meeting, near the end of August, election of officers will take part.

Metichosin Wedding In Floral Setting

A profusion of roses and delphiniums decked St. Mary's Church, Metichosin, for the wedding of Miss Margaret Mary, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Mackenzie, Kildonan, B.C., formerly of Albert Head, and Leslie Milligan, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Milligan, Metichosin, Saturday evening. Rev. H. M. Bolton read the service for which Mrs. G. Weir played traditional music.

Intimate friends and relatives were received by the bride, pair, and their mothers, at the hilltop home of Mr. and Mrs. J. MacKenzie, Albert Head, aunt and uncle of the bride.

An heirloom cloth of hand-made flit lace on voile, from Madrid, covered the bridal table where a three-tier cake, flanked by vases of Talsman roses, and pink-lit candles in silver candelabra, was centred. Major T. McGimsey proposed the toast.

Silver grey was the theme of the bride's ensemble. Her frock was fashioned with casually draped skirt, and cutwork neckline. Sweetheart roses trimmed her model hat. Roses, gladioli and freesias in corsage, and a double strand of pearls, her groom's gift, completed her costume.

Miss Sybil Mackenzie, as her sister's only attendant, chose a cornflower halo hat of brown mohair in contrast with her frock of turquoise crepe designed with draped skirt fullness. Her corsage bouquet was of yellow lilies.

Best man was T. McCright, and ushering guests to their seats were J. Rockliffe Jr., and T. J. Rockliffe.

Following their honeymoon in Calgary, Edmonton and Peace River, Mr. and Mrs. Milligan will make their home at Metichosin. For traveling the bride donned a three-quarter-length black coat over her wedding costume.

Personal Notes

Rear Admiral E. R. Mainguy, O.B.E., R.C.N., with Mrs. Mainguy and their three children, Daniel, Christopher and Quila, left today by motor for Calgary where they will attend the stampede. Period Gowns Lend Colonial Atmosphere To Wedding

Period gowns of turquoise blue, shell pink and ecru worn by a trio of bridal attendants were a perfect foil for the striking Marie Antoinette gown chosen by dark haired Miss Audrey Gertude, second eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Draper, 125 Government Street, for her marriage to Robert Victor Zellinsky, youngest son of V. A. Zellinsky, Bamber-ton, and the late Mrs. Zellinsky.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was decked with baskets of gladioli and delphinium, for the ceremony June 27, solemnized by Rev. J. L. W. McLean. Cyril Warren presided at the organ, and Mrs. J. Lister was the soloist.

White ostrich plumes held the veil of French illusion net which misted slightly en train, over the bridal gown of white crepe fashioned lace-trimmed paniers on the hoop skirt, and deep lace cuffs edging the long sleeves. A turquoise pendant set with pearls, worn by the groom's mother on her wedding day, was the bride's only jewelry and she carried red roses and gardenias.

Similar hoop-skirted gowns of turquoise and shell pink taffeta were worn by Mrs. G. Rawling, sister of the bride, and Mrs. T. Kershaw, senior attendants. They wore clusters of flowers in their hair and carried sweet peas, stocks and maiden-hair fern, covering old-fashioned ivory fans.

Miss Anne Draper, youngest sister of the bride, wore a similar gown of ecru net over satin. She carried a Colonial bouquet.

The groom chose as best man, his brother, Walter Zellinsky. Ushers were Thomas Kershaw, George Rawlings and Bud Lott.

Mrs. Draper and Mrs. E. Speed, aunt of the groom, welcomed guests with the couple at a reception at Kit Kat banquet club. Silver Candelabra holding white candles and summer flowers flanked the three-tier cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Zellinsky are motoring to Seattle and Portland for their honeymoon. Cherry red gabardine topcoat, grey accessories and pill-box hat were worn by the bride with her gabardine suit of pearl grey. Her corsage bouquet was of gardenias and bouvardia.

Games were arranged in the Parish Hall, where members of the C.Y.O. were in charge of soft drinks and ice cream. Little Flower Circle was represented by Miss Rose McGuire and Mrs. James, president, assisted by Miss Viva Babington. Mrs. M. J. Haley was in charge of prizes.

Mother's Veil
Chosen By Bride

Wearing her mother's veil of silk embroidered net, cascading from a coronet of orange blossoms over her gown of white organza and taffeta, Miss Norah Lillian Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith, 537 Burnside Road, repeated wedding vows with Ralph David, early Saturday evening.

First United Church was the scene of the ceremony performed by Dr. Hugh A. McLeod, assisted by Dr. W. G. Wilson. J. Ingram Smith presided at the organ.

A softly draped peplum of lace gave an over-silk effect at the back to the bridal gown designed with puff sleeves of the same lace, long-fitted bodice and full skirt slightly en train. Red roses, white carnations and sweet peas were carried by the bride, given in marriage by her father.

A gown of maize taffeta, styled with low rounded neckline, and gathered skirt caught into a bustle at the back to reveal an underskirt of embroidered Swiss and lace, was worn by the bride, given in marriage by her father.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. David B. Keir, Mill Bay, was attended by Jack Veefkind. Ushers were Kenneth Keir and Kenneth Smith, brothers of the bride and groom.

Dr. W. G. Wilson, who officiated at the marriage of the bride's parents, gave the toast to her future happiness at a reception at Y.W.C.A. Mothers of the couple assisted in welcoming guests, and the bride and groom out their two-tier wedding cake.

The honeymoon will be spent motoring in the Northwestern States, following which Mr. and Mrs. Keir will make their home at Mill Bay. The bride changed to a going away suit of old rose,

Newlyweds Reside
In Saskatchewan

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Watson Taylor, whose marriage took place Saturday at Glad Tidings Tabernacle, are motoring through Canada and United States, en route to their future home in Bredenbury, Sask.

Rev. E. W. Robinson read the nuptial service for the bride, the former Isabel Mary Ruth Hicks, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Ronald Hicks, 928 Bay Street, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Taylor, Bredenbury, Sask.

Chantilly lace in full-length panels of the satin bridal gown and edging the long train, was repeated in a headdress which held the full-length veil. The bride wore her groom's gift, a single strand of pearls, and carried white carnations and red roses in a showering bouquet.

In striking contrast were the pastel-hued gowns of Mrs. Kay Eddison, matron of honor, in soft mauve; and bridesmaids Misses Mary Kingsley, in yellow, Miriam Goodwin, turquoise, and Audrey Taylor in coral. All carried bouquets of rapture roses and larkspur, and wore bandeau of the same flowers in their hair.

Adding charm to the bridal retinue was little Miss Carol Robinson in pale blue nylon with bonnet to match, who scattered rose petals before the bride. Master Clinton Richmond was ring-bearer.

Lars Karstad, Quallcum Beach, attended his cousin as groomsmen. Ushering were Joe Eddison, Elmer King and Jim Kingsley.

A reception for 200 guests was held at Kit Kat Banquet Club where Mrs. Hicks and Mrs. Taylor assisted in welcoming guests.

The bride chose a blue suit with dressmaker detailing, and white accessories for her going away costume.

Banff Honeymoon
For Bridal Pair

Honeymooning in Banff are Harold Allen Diewart and his bride, Miss Evelyn Louise Hitchman, whose marriage took place Saturday at 8:1 Victoria Gospel Hall, with Huron Sheppard, Duncan, B.C., officiating.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hitchman, 1241 Acton Street, was given in marriage to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Diewart, Vancouver, by her father. Her satin gown was fashioned, scalloped waistline and skirt slightly en train. She carried a shower bouquet of red roses and stephanotis, and a wreath of orange blossoms held her veil which misted to floor-length.

Jewel-toned gowns were worn by a quartette of attendants: Miss Edith Hitchman, her sister's maid of honor, in mauve whispering taffeta, with floral hat, lace mitts, and carnations, roses and sweetpeas showered in her bouquet.

Bridesmaids, in similar gowns of green and yellow shadow crepe, with Mary Stuart head-dresses and mitts to match, were Miss Ruth Burdge and Miss Dorothy Hitchman, also sister of the bride. Both carried Colonial bouquets. Miss Mary Ruth Diewart, sister of the groom, as junior bridesmaid, wore apricot taffeta, with bandeau of flowers in her hair. She carried a 'Colonial' posy.

Stan Hitchman, brother of the bride, was groomsmen. Ushering were Dave Jones, Vancouver, and Sidney Biggs.

Thomas Crawford proposed the toast to the bride, at a reception which followed in the lower hall. Mrs. Hitchman and Mrs. Diewart assisted the newlyweds in welcoming guests.

Navy blue topcoat and matching accessories were chosen by Mrs. Diewart to accent her traveling suit of old rose. The couple will reside in Vancouver.

Trade in Greenland has been a state monopoly of Denmark since 1776.

Miss K. Alexander
Weds G. T. Perkins

Rev. T. H. McAllister performed the ceremony at Gorge Presbyterian Church, June 21, which united in marriage, Katharine Helen Lindsay Alexander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Alexander, 2834 Colquitz Avenue, and Gordon Thomas Stephen Perkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Perkins, 350 Gorge Road West.

A reception following the ceremony was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Michelin. Mrs. Alexander and Mrs. Perkins received guests with the bridal pair.

White satin glistened in princess slenderness at the waistline, sweeping into a flared skirt, slightly en train, in the wedding gown. A Mary Stuart headdress held the embroidered veil which cascaded to fingertip length. The bride, wearing the groom's gift of pearls, carried white carnations, sweetpeas and swainsonia. Similar full-skirted gowns, of embroidered organza were worn by Mrs. Jack Findlay, matron of honor in yellow, and Miss Gladys Thomas, bridesmaid in powder blue. Both wore clusters of flowers in their hair, with shoulder-length veils, and white elbow-length mitts.

P.O. Elwyn Perkins, E.C.N., was best man for his brother. Ushers were Louis Haut, Joe Bryant and Hugh Newman.

For the honeymoon trip by motor to Vancouver, Seattle and Tacoma, the bride wore a shell pink suit with peplum back, grey three-quarter length coat, grey straw hat, black accessories and corsage bouquet of pink rosebuds.

Mr. and Mrs. Perkins will make their home in the city.

Easterners See Flying Saucer

SUMMERSIDE, P.E.I. — Four Summerside citizens Wednesday reported they had seen a "bright, luminous object," traveling high and at great speed and resembling the so-called flying saucers reported from western Canada and the United States.

The four, Dr. and Mrs. C. K. Gunn, Roland Phillipson and his daughter, were traveling along the highway at North Bedeque, several miles from here when Miss Phillipson first saw the object. All four said they saw it "quite plainly."

Mr. Phillipson described it as a "shapeless object that glinted and gleamed in the bright sunlight." It was visible for about 30 seconds before it disappeared in a southerly direction.

Mrs. Gunn said it appeared like a "large star" as it swept across clear sky. It made no noise and did not resemble an airplane, she said.

Play Pirates Aboard Warship

HALIFAX (CP) — Bearded pirates with rings in their ears and cutlasses in their hands swarmed over the broad, scrubbed decks of H.M.S. Sheffield here Wednesday as a group of Halifax children yelled in glee.

The gunnery officer of the visiting British man-o-war had his gun crews dressed in high boots, glittering trinkets and bright bandanas to entertain the young guests.

The canopied quarterdeck was the scene of the party, where games were played and ice cream and cake were served. The party included an inspection of the ship and wide-eyed boys and girls studied its intriguing equipment.

Highlight of the party was a duel on a plank with the losing pirate being made to walk the plank and tumble into the harbor.

In a gun drill demonstration the after turret, which had pumped shells into the fleeing Bismark, fired a broadside of colored balloons.

Lieutenant-Governor Praises Work Of Naval College

Addressing the cadets of the Naval College, Lieutenant-Governor Charles A. Banks stressed the great value of the training received at Royal Roads. He praised the work of Capt. W. B. Creery, C.B.E., R.C.N., commanding officer at Royal Roads, and his staff. To the right is Admiral Sir Henry Moore, K.C.B., C.V.O., D.S.O., R.N., head of the British Admiralty delegation in Washington, D.C., who presented prizes to the cadets, and Rear-Admiral E. R. Mainguy, O.B.E., R.C.N., Commanding Officer Pacific Coast. To the immediate left of His Honor is Capt. Crgery.

Oak Bay People Object To Noise Of Model Planes

"If we are going to listen to complaints about the noise model planes make, then we might as well start objecting to all other types of noise," said Councillor George Murdock at a meeting of the Oak Bay Municipal Council Wednesday.

Councillor Murdock was commenting on the objection of a few Oak Bay residents against the flying of model aircraft on the grounds of Oak Bay School. The residents had complained that the planes were creating too much noise.

The secretary of the School Board had received several complaints from persons living in the vicinity of the school, that certain model planes being flown on the grounds over the week-end were creating a great deal of annoyance to residents living in that area, Councillor Murdock reported.

The School Board secretary had instructed the police to advise the boys they could not use the school grounds because they had not obtained permission to use the grounds, said the councillor. "I don't think we can take the noise question into consideration," said the councillor. "It's a hundred times more noisy in the park. There is the noise of picnics, noise of cars and scores of other noises just as disturbing."

"We should not interfere with these boys," he added. Reeve Walker agreed, but the matter was left over until the council had received communications on the subject from the School Board.

No Decision Made In Sharing Costs Of Foster Home

Oak Bay Council at Wednesday's meeting made no decision on the proposal that Oak Bay share with other municipalities the cost of operating the new juvenile foster home at 1527 Coldharbour Road for the care of children coming before the juvenile court.

A delegation, headed by Ald. Margaret D. Christie had appealed to the council last week to share the cost of upkeeping the home with Victoria and Saanich. The council decided to table the matter for a further week until it had received communications on the subject from Victoria and Saanich.

In a written report on the subject, R. F. Blandy, clerk and treasurer, said that the opinion of D. M. Gordon, solicitor, had been sought on the subject with regard to the municipality's responsibilities in such a case.

In summarizing Oak Bay's case, Mr. Blandy said it was not a legal point of view that a "foster home" whatever Ald. Christie may say.

It was merely a place for temporary detention pending appearance in court, he said, and the stay was so short that influence on an inmate's behaviour and disposition was likely to be negligible.

"However, there is nothing to prevent Victoria using it as a home for destitute children as well as a detention home," he said in discussing the home from a legal point of view.

He added that the solicitor had found that Oak Bay had no general power to acquire joint ownership and control, but had indicated that it had some power to share the cost of the foster home.

"There is also the practical difficulty that we are at Victoria's mercy unless we arrange for a home of our own," he said. "However, the cost of $8.83 per day for an Oak Bay inmate is extremely high."

He said it represented the total cost of the entire building and staff, including an element for purchase of building and normally such an element should never be included in rent.

"If we join Victoria, on their 10 per cent plan, we acquire no ownership in their building and the list of costs shown will almost certainly go up," he said. "Already they omit insurance, repairs and depreciation. Sixteen dollars and a half a month is merely a minimum."

Mr. Blandy said that Victoria would like Oak Bay to pay $850 towards the building at once as well as about $132 for eight months' operation. Meals would be extra, he added, and we have no appropriation for such amounts.

In conclusion, he said, if a deal was entered into, there should be a formal agreement and this would probably necessitate securing statutory powers.

SCIATICA So Bad Couldn't Get About

"Three years ago, I had a very severe attack of Sciatica in my left leg," writes Mrs. T. A. Beacon, 467 Vitre St. W. Montreal. "The leg and hip were sore for 2 or 3 weeks. Then I was suddenly stricken with a pain as sharp as a knife driving through the flesh of my leg. The cords seemed to shorten up, so that I couldn't keep my leg straight, but could reach the floor only with the toes of my left foot. My leg was so stiff and sore, I could hardly get about. When a friend recommended Templeton's T-R-C's, I was eager to try them. It was fortunate I did, for T-R-C's brought me quick relief from pain and stiffness."

7,500 Canadian Older Veterans Placed In Jobs

A substantial decrease in the number of older veterans registered for employment has been made during the past two months, Minister of Veterans' Affairs Ian A. Mackenzie announces in releasing results of a campaign at present being conducted by his department and the National Employment Service to find jobs for ex-service men in the older brackets.

On April 1, according to the minister's figures, there were approximately 9,300 older veterans registered for employment and unemployed in National Employment Service offices across the country. At May 29 this number had been reduced to 5,942.

In the month of May alone, he said, there had been a reduction of about 1,500 in the list, in spite of the fact that during May there were 3,855 new applicants registered. In April also there were a large number of new applicants.

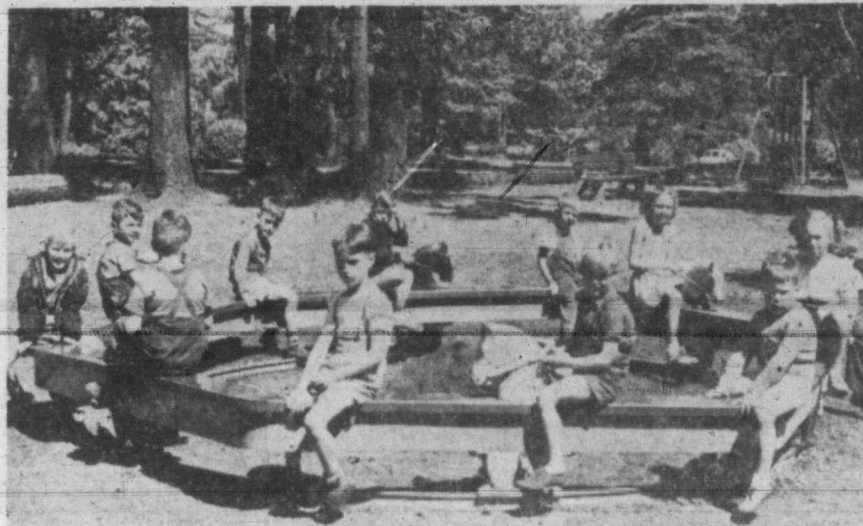

"This means that in May 5,334 older veterans found employment," Mr. Mackenzie said, "and when the April results are added to these, it means that approximately 7,500 men, the majority of them well over 50 years of age, have been absorbed into industry. We are optimistic that by the time this campaign ends, the problem of employment for the older veteran will not be a serious one."

Finance Minister Defends Budget In Address Over CBC

OTTAWA (CP)—Rising to the defence of his 1946-47 budget, Finance Minister Abbott said Wednesday night the present government was "economy-minded" and that Opposition members could not substantiate charges of extravagance.

Children Enjoy New Equipment At Beacon Hill

Newest piece of playground equipment at Beacon Hill Park is one of the most popular additions so far as the small fry are concerned. From the morning hours until sundown the miniature merry-go-round, which is powered by the short legs of its riders, is on the go. The "pony-cycle," which is its proper name, was purchased in eastern Canada. W. H. Warren, parks superintendent, said, and is "practically 'fool-proof' so far as accidents are concerned. A tumble from one of the seats results in nothing more than the youngster getting a bit dusty.

free-time political series, "The Nation's Business," Mr. Abbott said members of the government had challenged Opposition members to suggest reductions.

"On no occasion has any Opposition member come forward with concrete proposals which would make substantial economies," he said.

Commenting on charges that the government's $350,000,000 surplus this year was a "phony" one because it resulted from sales of war surplus, Mr. Abbott said the goods had been originally purchased as outright expenditures. It was in accordance with "sound accounting practice" that the revenue received from their sale be treated as current revenue.

The surplus had gone toward reducing the national debt and was saving the people $9,000,000 a year in interest.

The cost of the war had amounted to $20,000,000,000. In 1939 the national debt was $3,000,000,000 and today it was $13,000,000,000. Thus, Mr. Abbott said, the Canadian people had $10,000,000,000 out of current paid half the cost of the war—revenue.

Flags fluttered in gay streamers from the turrets to tall trees in the grounds. Small tables set on the lawn and on the wide stone veranda lent a gala air to a scene where midshipmen and cadets entertained parents as well as many young friends.

Ontario Chief Justice Advocates Change In Canadian Penal System

"For many years, we have listened to much talk about crime and penal systems. Now the time for talk has passed and the time for real action is here," Chief Justice J. C. McRuer of the High Court of Ontario told members of the Canadian Club Wednesday at the Empress Hotel.

The first need of this country is an agency for the prevention of crime, Mr. McRuer said. "There should be treatment before the offence is committed, not after it."

Mr. McRuer advocated that a department of the federal government be set up to take measures for the prevention of crime.

"We have the Department of Health to safeguard us against sickness, the Department of Trade and Commerce to keep us in good economic standing and the National Research Council to keep us up to date with scientific advancement. Surely it is not too much to ask that a department be established for crime prevention," the speaker said.

The prevention of crime is closely linked with the home, the school and the church, Mr. McRuer said. Of the three, he said, the most important is the home.

BROKEN HOMES CHIEF CAUSE

"Wherever I go I find that broken homes are the chief cause of juvenile delinquency. By broken I do not refer to those broken just by separation of the parents, but to all those that have been broken by death illness or economic circumstances."

If crime is committed, every attempt should be made to save the first offender from prison, Mr. McRuer said.

"Today, the majority of Canadian prisons are institutions for an advanced education in crime. The prisons provide punishment, but they seldom provide a correction."

Mr. McRuer suggested there should be a wider use of adult probation.

"There should be committees of trained and experienced social workers with real authority to assist many of the offenders to return to the path of right without serving a prison term."

Mr. McRuer said that England had started a probationary system in 1906 and that at the present time the probation boards handled 20,000 persons a year.

In Canada, the city of Hamilton has set up a board along the lines of the English system. Although the Hamilton board is understaffed it has proved itself 92 per cent successful.

NEED OF SEGREGATION

Mr. McRuer said there was a great need for more segregation in Canadian prisons. There are some members of society who are confirmed criminals—they are a menace in or out of a prison and should be removed entirely from the others, he stated.

Mr. McRuer spoke of the need for industrialization in Canadian prisons.

"There should be work to do by the prisoners. They should be made to feel that they can do something useful and they should be given a chance to

Bobby Locke Will Seek Prize Money In Canadian Open

TORONTO (CP)—The $10,000 Canadian Open golf championship doesn't tee off at the par 71 Toronto Scarborough Club until July 16 but already 57 of the best in Canadian and United States professional and amateur golf have entered the big show.

Royal Canadian Golf Association officials fully expect the last minute rush of entries for the four-day, 72-hole medal play tournament will boost the list to a record 150. Last year's entry list of 131 constituted the greatest number of golfers ever to compete in the event.

Most of the top American golfers are entered and yesterday officials were optimistic that Sammy Snead, whose official entry has not yet been received, will be among those competing.

Looking hopefully toward a Canadian winning the title for the first time since 1914, local officials have the names of Ontario pros Bob Gray, Gordon Brydson and Bill Kerr and the two Vancouver threats, Stan Leonard and Fred Wood.

They expect their chief draw, card, however, will be South African Bobby Locke, whose effortless swing and extreme accuracy have overcome the U.S. style of power and distance to the extent of more than $10,000 in prize money in the two months he has been playing on this continent.

Greater Number Here Receive Family Allowances This Year

A 15 to 20 per cent increase in the number of families receiving allowances in June of this year, as compared to June of last year, was noted in figures released today by the regional office of Family Allowance Administration at Victoria.

There were 129,977 families in receipt of family allowances for 246,709 children in June of this year compared with 108,325 families in receipt of allowances for 205,785 children in June of last year.

Sums paid out were $1,459,798 in June of this year and $1,247,516 in June of last year.

Officials attribute a certain amount of the increase to the fact that many families did not register for family allowances until January of 1947, following the changes in income tax exemptions.

In the year period 6,987 families in receipt of allowances transferred to B.C. from other provinces and only 3,000 transferred from B.C. to other provinces.

$182,580 Tender Posted For Annex

Commonwealth Construction Company Ltd. of Victoria and Vancouver was the only firm to submit a tender for the construction of an annex to the Legislative Buildings.

The tender, which was opened at noon today by Public Works Minister E. C. Carson, was for $182,580.

The annex will be built on Superior Street, next to the building of the King's Printer, and used as temporary offices.

$700 Netted At Opening Night Of Gyro Carnival

A little over $700 was netted at the Wednesday night opening of the eighth annual Hole-in-One Contest and Carnival of the Victoria Gyro Club at the Central Junior High School grounds which was attended by about 1,000 persons.

Club officials reported this morning that it was the usual thing for the first night to be "a little slow," but that larger crowds are expected to attend during the next three days.

Mayor Percy George and Walter Luney, president of the Queen Alexandra Solarium for Crippled Children, opened the affair. The entire proceeds of the event will go toward a Gyro fund to build a new nurses' home at the Solarium. The cost of the new building will be $40,000 and it is hoped that this year's carnival will raise $10,000 of this amount.

Jim Ranson, 1031 Verringer Avenue, came up with a hole-in-one to take the evening's honors in the featured golf contest. Ranson received the daily first prize money of $15 and earned the right to play in the finals. Hugh Stephen, 1318 Beach Drive, took the second prize of $10 with a neat shot which left the ball just two and a half inches from the hole. Ken Lea, one of this year's finalists in the city golf championship, received third prize of $5 when he managed to put his shot five inches from the cup.

Viktor Trahan, 317 Huntingtop Place, was the winner of the Wednesday tombola prize.

The carnival and contest will operate tonight and Friday from 7 p.m. and on Saturday from 2.30.

T.L.C. President Supports Canada's New Labor Bill

Support of the new Dominion government labor bill, an act to provide for investigation, Conciliation and Settlement of Industrial Disputes, was given in a letter by Percy R. Bengough, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, presented at the meeting of the Victoria and District T.L.C. Wednesday evening.

The T.L.C. was definitely of the opinion that the act was worthy of support, Mr. Bengough said. "It is quite possible that in operation weaknesses will be found that will require amendment. A great deal depends on its administration. Past experiences of this congress have shown that poor legislation sympathetically administered as of times been better than good legislation administered in a hostile manner."

The congress believe that one of the first steps toward national unity is uniform labor and social laws throughout the Dominion, the president said, and the new act did not meet this requirement in that its application is limited to industries, undertakings of an inter-provincial character and such works as are declared by the Dominion to be to the general advantage of Canada, or for the advantage of two or more provinces, and outside the exclusive legislative authority of any province.

In view of this limited scope, he continued, the formulation of regulations governing the vast majority of Canadian workers is left to the "tender mercy" of the various provinces.

However, he stated, "it must be fully recognized that the limitation is not chargeable to the Dominion, but emanates from provincial governments who desire to retain all their old-time autonomy, even in the face of modern methods and needs of Canadian economy."

Such being the position, he said, it was left to the T.L.C. to judge the act on its merits and to the extent that it embodies the request of the congress for inclusions and deletions.

Among things sought by the congress and found in the act by Mr. Bengough were:

Retention of the basic principles of P.C. 1003.

Sections which, while not definitely prohibiting company unions, at least make their existence insecure and their operation and recognition difficult.

Naming of the union and not individuals as the bargaining agency.

Protection to crafts or groups exercising technical skills.

In all cases in which both the employer and employees agree there will be no interference in their reaching or changing the provisions of an agreement.

Island Ratepayers Demand Hart Change School Taxes

A delegation representing the Vancouver Island Ratepayers' Association met Premier John Hart today to discuss the school tax and told him bluntly "you may expect no tax payments from the residents in most if not all of the rural areas on Vancouver Island, not only until a satisfactory adjustment of this present year's taxes has been made for all of these taxpayers, but until a proper solution has been found for the raising of school revenue requirements in future years."

The delegation consisted of A. D. Clelland, president of the ratepayers' association; Col. A. G. B. Lewis, vice-president; George Wyndlow, secretary; K. N. Mangles and Don Wilson.

The brief, presented by Mr. Clelland, spoke of the "terrific fear of protest" from rural areas concerning the treatment they had received at the hands of Mr. Hart's government. The rural areas had been saddled with over 50 per cent of the tax burden in their local school districts and the rural ratepayer had found his taxes increased from 200 to 600 per cent, whereas the ratepayer in the municipal portions had his tax payments for school purposes reduced, the association president said.

The government's interpretation and implementation of the Cameron report, he continued, had resulted in rural areas becoming solidly organized for the first time.

The taxes were appealed to the Court of Revision by ratepayers' associations, which included those of Saltair, South Cowichan, North Oyster District, Diamond District, Cedar District and the Alberni rural area, he said.

The appeals, Mr. Clelland charged, turned out to be nothing short of a farce and a waste of time and money.

A recent announcement by Premier Hart that, to satisfy the farmers until an equalization board had been set up, the provincial government would grant a relief of about $250,000, was considered by Mr. Clelland as just a sop to the farmers.

He charged the offering was "the time-honored political dodge of divide and rule—split up the rural taxpayers who are stirring up a hornet's nest... send some of them away happy and leave the rest of them holding the bag. Get them fighting among themselves."

In the Saltair district, he continued, 134 tax notices were returned to the provincial assessor for appeal to the court of revision. Of this number 53 tax notices were for assessments on farm lands and 81 for assessments on improved lands. "The 53 ratepayers who had been assessed as farmers were the beneficiaries of your gracious exemption of $2,400 on their improvements and have received adjusted tax notices. The remaining 81 tax notices on the so-called improved land received no adjustment whatsoever and their tax papers were returned to me for redistribution. They are expected to pay the exorbitant 14.53 mill rate on the full assessment."

He said the provincial assessor was making his rounds without the benefit of the board of equalization, although the government had indicated it intends to set up such a board.

He criticized government action in the matter with regard to the municipalities. "We are positively certain that the municipalities will not put up with your government sticking its nose into municipal affairs any more than you would stand for the Dominion government interfering with the affairs of the Province of B.C. In which case you will have to match the assessments in the rural areas of the municipalities."

He presented the association's demands.

"For this current year we require the government to limit the mill rate for school taxes to 5 mills on the assessed value of land and 75 per cent of the assessed value of improvements. The $2,400 exemption of improvements on farm lands, which you have already conceded, to stand."

Explains Reasons For Vancouver Making Weather Forecasts

Reasons why Victoria's weather forecast must come from Vancouver have been given here by P. D. McTaggart-Cowan, assistant controller of the meteorological division of the Department of Transport, Toronto, who has just completed a visit to this city in the course of his first inspection tour of weather stations west of Toronto.

According to the weather expert, Canada's weather service is in two divisions, forecasting and climatology. Victoria has the climatological headquarters for the district where all records and weather data are kept, while Vancouver is the centre of the forecasting division. It would not be feasible to have them both on the same site, Mr. McTaggart-Cowan said, adding a large forecasting centre was required for the Vancouver airport.

Mr. McTaggart-Cowan next turned to the difficulties of carrying out research.

Mr. McTaggart-Cowan also spoke of the shortage of trained men in Canada which he said was hampering research work now being carried out in weather science at Toronto headquarters. However, he added, the division expected to expand its staffs considerably within a year or two when the first group of veterans started leaving university. Canada, he said, maintained the highest qualifications for its weather technicians which included a university degree in mathematics and physics and a post-graduate degree in meteorology.

He also spoke of the difficulties of obtaining accuracy in meteorology, which, he explained, was a comparatively new science and as such had definite limitations.

"It is one thing to make a discovery in the laboratory and another to apply it to the point where a forecaster can make use of it within a short space of time."

English-Speaking World Must Stick Together In Peace

The salvation of the English speaking world hinged on how close they could stick together in peace and war, George S. Currie, C.M.G., D.S.O., M.C., former deputy minister under National Defence Minister J. L. Ralston, said in an interview here today.

Mr. Currie left today for Vancouver after seeing his son, George, graduate as a midshipman from R.C.N.-R.C.A. College at Royal Roads.

Because Canada was strategically located and had undertaken international responsibilities, Mr. Currie said he was strongly in favor of "maintaining our armed forces."

He also said that he was glad that the Royal Roads College had been changed to a joint service college which would combine the training of both R.C.N. and R.C.A.F. officers.

"Closely combined operations between the three forces was proved essential during the war," he said. "It was a good idea to change the training of men as all forces now depend on one another."

Mr. Currie was particularly interested with British Columbia and predicted that Vancouver was the "coming city."

He seemed surprised there was little unemployment in British Columbia despite the heavy influx of service men into the province shortly after the war.

"I thought you were really up against it," he said, "but it looks as if there is very little unemployment."

Mr. Currie praised Victoria's climate. "At least you can sleep at night," he said, in pointing out that in Montreal it was very warm and humid at this time of the year.

Old Age Pension

Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council Wednesday evening endorsed a brief from the Old Age Pension conference, sponsored by the Winnipeg T.L.C., and referred the brief to the local Old Age Pension campaign council.

A letter was received from the Fort William T.L.C. pledging full support to the Victoria council in its efforts to bring the 1948 T.L.C. convention to Victoria.

The council gave its support to a request from the B.C. Library Association (T.L.C.) on their efforts to have a national library established in Canada.

A talk on the current drive to reduce accidents was given by Constable Brooke Douglas of the Victoria City Police, and the council president urged all affiliated unions to give full support to the campaign.

Newfoundland Representatives Study Workings Of Federal Govt.

OTTAWA (CP) — Representatives of Canada and Newfoundland, discussing the possibility of the island's entry into Confederation, met Wednesday for the first time in a week and after a three-hour session adjourned again until next Monday to allow Canadian officials to supply more information on the operations of the federal government.

John Baldwin, Privy Council official and liaison officer between the two delegations, said that during the adjournment the seven-man Newfoundland delegation will visit government departments in which the island is particularly interested.

Meeting the press later, Mr. Baldwin said that in the adjournment since Wednesday a week ago, the delegations had studied an exchange of documents.

He said the Canadian documents outlined the functions of the departments of the federal government and gave a breakdown of the responsibilities of the Dominion and the provinces. They also listed the division of the taxation fields as between the federal and provincial governments.

The Newfoundland documents outlined the services now in effect on the island.

Mr. Baldwin said the discussions had not gone into detail on any particular point. On the question of defence, for instance, the only thing mentioned was that if the island came into Confederation the Defence Department would become responsible for defence measures there.

Mr. Baldwin said Newfoundland's debt of $74,000,000 had not entered the discussions, but possibly would come up later.

Susan Adams, Martha Dawson and Keith Temple were awarded top honors in their respective classes in the children's photo contest sponsored by the Independent Order of Foresters, Victoria Court 1004, when the entries were judged Wednesday night.

Susan, entered in the class for children under two, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. Adams, 1517 North Dairy Road. The runners-up in the same class were Perry White, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. White, R.R. 4, and Byron Lenny, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Lenny, 738 Fisgard Street.

Martha, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Dawson took top honors in the class for girls between two and six. Jay Allen, daughter of Mrs. R. Allen, 268 Oakmount Road, placed second and Sylvia Donna Molesworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Molesworth, 1176 Yates Street, took third place honors.

Keith, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Temple, 869 Humboldt Street, won the first place prize in the class for boys between two and six. Second was Byron Cross, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Cross, 1013 Hillside Avenue, and Ernest Warner, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Warner, 558 Alpha Street was third.

The winners will receive cash awards of $25, $15 and $10 for first, second and third places. These prizes will be awarded Friday afternoon at 2.30 in the Bay Street Armories at a baby show and "diaper derby."

Ald. Margaret Christie, Dr. Russell Robertson and Cuthbert Holmes were the judges.

New Tax Law Will Cost City $21,000

Implementation of the new section of the Municipal Act under which a tax of three per cent is imposed on gross earnings of utility companies in lieu of taxes on improvements, will cost the city of Victoria $21,000 a year, Mayor Percy George reported in a letter to the City Council.

At the same time, he pointed out, there is no loss of revenue to surrounding municipalities, as not one of the facilities of the B.C. Electric Railway Company for carrying on its business is located in any other municipality.

He suggested that a resolution be prepared for presentation to the provincial government pointing out how unfairly this utility tax will operate as between the city and the adjoining municipalities.

The improvements of the utility companies exempted under the new section include pole lines, plant and mains of the gas company, rails, poles and wires of street railway, buildings, trade licenses and business taxes.

The new levy of three per cent is to be divided among the municipalities of Greater Victoria on the basis of the gross revenue derived from each area in the form of bills paid by consumers for gas, electricity and telephone services.

Complain Of Noise At Beach Parties

Residents of the Gonzales Bay beach area have complained to the police commission about noise emanating from beach parties late at night, the City Council was informed today.

They have requested an 11.30 curfew on all beach parties, that signs be posted prohibiting the drinking of liquor on the beach as the broken bottles are a menace and the drinking parties rowdy.

P. H. Vesey, who wrote the letter on behalf of the residents also requested that a police patrol inspect the beach once each evening after dark and again at 11.30 to enforce the curfew.

Mayor Hears Progress On Water Inquiry

Investigation of the water supply for southern Vancouver Island is proving a bigger job than at first anticipated, Dr. A. E. Cleveland, commissioner, told Mayor Percy George today, as he made a confidential report on his progress.

Mayor George said, following the interview, that Dr. Cleveland had given no indication as to when the report would be ready, but from the investigations still to be carried on, it would take several months at least.

There is considerable factual research still to be done, the mayor was told, particularly with regard to the water needs of the agricultural areas of the Saanich Peninsula and the potentialities of using irrigation to a larger extent.

Barrel Roof On Memorial Arena Takes Shape

Pouring of concrete for the barrel-type patented roof of the Memorial Arena started Wednesday and before the end of the week half of it will be completed, Charles T. Hamilton, consulting engineer, said today. The forms for the roof are on a movable platform which will travel on tracks and gradually move forward as the concrete is poured so that the barrel roof will be an unbroken sheet of concrete arching over the ice surface. The margin of error allowed in the roof is only a small fraction of an inch.

Jack Roach Crowned B.C. All-Round Trap Champion

While preparations are near completion for the two-day sixth annual B.C. skeet championship shoot at the Albert Head Road grounds of the Victoria Gun Club on July 19 and 20, Victoria marksman distinguished himself in the B.C. trap championships at Vancouver on Dominion Day.

A five-man team of the local contingent of 14 marksmen won the team laurels and the B.C. crown as the all-round A class champion of the shoot went to Victoria's Jack Roach.

Roach nosed out Vancouver's Jimmy Robertson by a single bird to take aggregate honors. His A class score was 181 out of a possible 200.

Victoria scored again in the title bracket when two Capital City shots, Lou Horth and Ted Bailey, wound up all even in the B.C. doubles 50-bird championship event with 41's. In the shootoff veteran Horth emerged the winner.

Cum Laude Will Retire To Stud

VANCOUVER (CP)—Cum Laude, one of western Canada's top thoroughbreds, will be retired to stud immediately, owner Dr. Lyon H. Appleby of Vancouver announced Wednesday.

A hard-luck colt—he would knock himself out practically every time he ran and won—Cum Laude suffered a fractured right ankle in the Hollywood Park $7,500 feature nine days ago. Top weighted and favorite to take the event, he finished third, beaten a length and a quarter.

Two Records Fall As Oakland Wins Hitting Slugfest

Oakland and Hollywood played one for the books in the Coast League last night but a pitchers' battle in which Los Angeles beat San Francisco, 2 to 1, in 11 innings really counted at the top of the standings.

It lengthened the Angels' lead over the Seals to three games. The noise of exploding base hits sounded like the Fourth of July had arrived early in Hollywood as the Stars and the Oaks knocked out 40 together, breaking the league record of 37 by San Francisco and Salt Lake City in 1924. Oakland had 22 hits; Hollywood 18.

Two other records were tied. Oakland's eight consecutive hits in the second inning, when they scored 10 runs, equaled the San Diego mark against Sacramento Aug. 4, 1942. Four triples in the game equaled the Oakland-San Francisco total made in 1927. Oakland pulled away in the last three innings, finally winning 15 to 12.

Seattle topped Portland, 8 to 7, in 10 innings.

The protest was thrown out by league officials when the bat in question was not produced or evidence given that it had been measured by Fred Tooby, umpire-in-chief at the game. Douglas Tire got two points in the standings and Blue Birds get their money back.

Legion Jokers In Boxla Clash Tonight

Canadian Legion and Jokers will supply the action at Stevenson Park tonight as the box lacrosse teams swing back into their regular schedule after the holiday.

Legion dropped their last start to Foul Bay and are anxious to jump back on the winning van while Jokers need the win to escape relegation to the league cellar.

Superstitious Del Webb Refuses To Predict Yanks' Pennant Win

BY SONNY WALKER

Del Webb, co-owner of the vast New York Yankees baseball organization with Tan Topping, paid a brief flying visit to the city yesterday, met directors and officials of the Athletics, saw three innings of the game between the A's and Tacoma and left for Seattle by plane a few hours after his arrival.

The tall 46-year-old millionaire who has a part interest in one of the greatest baseball organizations in the land is a quiet, unassuming individual, rather reticent to talk to about his own deeds and accomplishments both in the business and sports world.

Originally Webb was to visit the city for three days along with Joe Devine, chief Pacific Coast area scout of the Yankees, but was delayed owing to the sudden illness of his father in Los Angeles.

Webb does all of his travelling by private airplane, a C-45

Beechcraft model complete with all the latest navigational and safety aids and devices. His pilot, Bob Vincent, is assisted in his duties by his wife, who is also a flyer.

When asked what he thought about the Yankees' chances for the pennant, Webb would offer no opinion except to say "I'm superstitious about predictions." Detroit and Boston are definitely the teams to beat, he said, with Boston, if they get pitching, the real threat.

PLAYERS LIKE AIR TRAVEL

Majority of players in the majors are in favor of air travel with only a few against the idea, he said. "It gives the boys a better chance to rest up between games."

In regard to night ball, in the big leagues, Webb expressed the opinion that in time all of the parks will be equipped with arcs, Chicago's Wrigley Stadium at present being the only park which has not made plans to install floodlights.

When not taken up with his enormous duties Webb likes nothing better than a game of golf. "I don't get to play often enough to suit me," he said. "I hope to pay another visit to Victoria and take in some of your beautiful courses."

Del Webb was in Victoria 26 years ago when he was just getting started in the construction business, which now ranks as one of the largest in the United States. He makes his home in Phoenix, Arizona, but is seldom there, especially during the summer months, when he is constantly traveling around the country.

Webb's plans on leaving for Seattle last night were to fly from there to Portland, then to San Francisco ending up at Chicago Monday night in order to take in the major league all-star game scheduled Tuesday in the windy city.

Brooklyn Moves Back Into First Position

Brooklyn Dodgers took over first place in the National League with an 11 to 3 victory over New York Giants under the floodlights at Ebbets Field last night, pouring across nine runs in the fourth inning. Jackie Robinson, first baseman who came up to the Dodgers from Montreal Royals, hit a single in the fifth inning to run his hitting streak to 19 consecutive games.

Boston Braves, who led the Dodgers by two percentage points before the game, dropped into second place a half game ahead of the Giants by losing to the Phillies in Philadelphia 6 to 5.

Cincinnati came up with an eight-run fifth inning to down the last-place Pirates in Pittsburgh 8 to 6 and move within half a game of the fifth-place Chicago Cubs.

New York Yankees opened up a 6½-game lead in the American League by trouncing Washington Senators 8 to 1, while the second-place Boston Red Sox were losing to Philadelphia Athletics 7 to 6.

Detroit, behind Hal Newhouse, defeated Cleveland Indians 6 to 5 to preserve third place. The Indians dropped to fifth, a game behind the Athletics.

Jack Kramer celebrated his selection for the American League all-star team by pitching St. Louis Browns to a 7 to 1 victory over Chicago White Sox in St. Louis.

Ralph Branca pitched a seven-hitter for Brooklyn to register his 11th victory. Harry Gumbert who relieved starter Kent Peterson in the fifth received credit for the Cincinnati win.

ANNOUNCEMENT of the major league all-star lineups for the baseball classic July 8, as selected by a poll of the fans, produced no surprises. The logical players in both circuits have been named for the eight positions—the pitchers were selected by Managers Eddie Dyer and Joe Cronin. It was interesting to note that jolting Joe Di Maggio of the New York Yankees is still the most popular player with the fans and lassies who pay the shot. His vote total far surpassed that of any of the other players selected.

Whether or not the result of the poll meets with the approval of baseball commissioner Happy Chandler remains to be seen. It will be remembered that the late Judge Landis put a stop to the public poll some years ago claiming the vote was a farce with a great number of the ballots being stamped. In a recent interview Chandler stated he would give the public poll system of selecting the two clubs a fair trial before making any decision. Looking over the two respective lineups I can't see how any of baseball's big wigs will have a squawk over the players nominated to participate in the annual game of the year.

SPEAKING of baseball, the current issue of Sport takes another crack at Mr. Chandler, contending the commissioner will have to lift the iron curtain of secrecy he has thrown around the sport. The magazine charges that Chandler has refused to release transcripts of the now famous Florida and Cincinnati hearings because he realizes that his actions in these proceedings would not meet with public approval or hold up under legal scrutiny.

IN A STORY authored by Stanley Woodward, the magazine claims that the Durocher-Dresen-Yankee-Dodger case cannot be considered closed as long as millions of fans are kept in ignorance of the actions of baseball's ruling men. Sport feels that if baseball is to continue as the great American pastime and belong to the fans, then the fans should get all the facts and the commissioner should not funnel out a trickle of news to his favorite press, while blacking out over 99% of the country's newspapers.

Acres fought back with two runs in their half of the third, added another in the fourth and then came through with their winning rally in the eighth on three singles and two Esquimalt bobbles.

Ralph Bonner worked on the hill for the losers and was nicked for nine hits, as was Sluggert.

B.C. Forest Products chalked up another victory in the senior B loop as Dave Ascot hurled three-hit ball to defeat Naval Stores, 10 to 2.

J. H. & E. walloped Goblins, 17 to 4, in a senior B girls' game.

Kasparovitch Great In Victoria Victory

Len Kasparovitch, who has pitched himself into the number one position on the staff of the Victoria Athletics, came through with another solid performance last night as he racked up his eighth victory and his fifth in a row, by beating Tacoma Tigers 16 to 4. "Lenny," as he is known to his mates, pitched shutout ball for eight innings.

Up until the ninth Kasparovitch never allowed more than one hit in any inning. He struck out four and walked a like number.

Athletics backed up Kasparovitch's hurling with some mighty solid extra-base clouting. Victoria moved into a 1 to 0 lead in the third when Kasparovitch got a life on first-baseman Donovan's boot, went all the way to third on Pat Patterson's double and scored on Johnny Hooper's infield-out.

Singles by Hooper, Harshman and Mastro, along with a couple of boots by shortstop Ray Miller and catcher Neil Clifford, gave the A's three runs in the third and Kasparovitch had a four-run margin to work on.

THREE HOME RUNS

Athletics opened up with their seige guns in the seventh and before being retired had scored nine runs on seven hits. After starter Rebel Morgan had allowed one more run and loaded the bases with one out, southpaw Cy Greenlaw was rushed in. He got a warm reception as Babe Jensen singled and Johnny Cavalli and Leo Righetti followed with home runs. Kasparovitch hit for one base and Patterson slashed a tremendous 380-foot drive over the left field fence for the circuit. That was all for Greenlaw with Gene Clough relieving.

Victoria got three more runs in the eighth on the strength of four hits, including a stinging double by Cavalli. Kasparovitch lost his shut-out in the ninth when Donovan opened with a single, Paton walked and Bartolomei was safe on Jensen's error to load the bags. Clifford doubled to score a pair. Clough's single and a fielder's choice accounted for two more tallies.

Athletics put over two lightning fast double plays and Tacoma one. As every member of the A's picking up a hit, except Bill White, Patterson, Hooper, Mastro and Harshman set the pace each with three.

Clubs wind up their series tonight with Gordon Walden expected to start for Tacoma and either Ray Fortier or Jim Arnold for Victoria.

League pace-setters did a flip-flop again last night as the Bremerton Bluejackets returned to the welcome shelter of their home field to squeeze out an 8 to 7 win over Vancouver and take over the No. 1 post.

Spokane, which had taken over the lead for the second time this week on the previous evening, fell a half game off the pace by losing to Salem, 12 to 6. Yakima toppled Wenatchee 9 to 4 in the night's other clash.

Cleveland Indians Sign Crack Negro Infielder

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland Indians today were the first American League club to have a negro player in the fold after signing second baseman Larry Doby, star negro National League infielder bought from the Newark, N.J., Eagles.

Tribe officials said Doby, a 22-year-old navy veteran who leads the negro National League in home runs and doubles, had been purchased from the Newark club for duty with the Indians starting Saturday. Terms of the purchase were not disclosed.

Jackie Robinson, capable first baseman of the Brooklyn Dodgers, was the first negro signed to play in "organized" baseball in modern times.

Asserting "the reports we have received on his ability are outstanding," Tribe manager Lou Boudreau said, "I hope Doby can succeed with us as he can with other teams."

Doby, who has slammed 13 homers, 16 doubles and eight triples while compiling a .458 batting average with Newark this season, returned from three years' navy service last year to spark the Eagles to the negro National League championship.

A left-hand batter and right-hand thrower, Doby also has had previous playing experience at other infield and outfield positions, Tribe officials said, adding that they would give him a "thorough trial" before determining whether he should be "farmed out" to a minor league club or retained on the Indians' regular roster.

Five Long Shots Thrill Punters At Lansdowne Track

VANCOUVER (CP)—Punters went slightly daffy at Lansdowne Park Wednesday as only three favorites came down under the wire in the eight heats. Two big prizes were paid. Patroy returned $25.85 in the fourth and Mere Flip $30.60 for nose bets in the sixth.

Apprentice Jockey Ray Stoddart, making good use of his allowance edge, booted home both the long-priced mounts and picked up three place horses. The only mount he missed on was Sweeping Manna in the feature event.

Laurel Lady, another outsider, captured the featured seventh, sticking her nose out just at the wire to beat the hot favorite, Ship of State, in a photo finish. Topsy Lass was third.

Uncle Ol and Intercessor coped the first and second events, respectively, for a $28.50 daily double, while a slim $7.70 quinella was returned by Best Dressed and Rock Steady in the eighth.

Doris Hart Sprints Wimbledon Unset

LONDON (AP)—Doris Hart of Miami, Fla., upset Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., 2-6, 8-6, 6-4, in the semifinals of the Wimbledon tennis championships today and will meet Margaret Osborn of San Francisco for the women's singles title Saturday.

Miss Osborn, top-seeded favorite to take the title vacated by Pauline Betz when the latter turned professional, advanced to the finals a short time earlier by routing Mrs. Shiela Summers of South Africa, 6-1, 6-2.

Canadians May See Bull Fighting

NEW YORK (CP)—Armand Vincent, Montreal promoter, said Wednesday he is negotiating with Spanish and Mexican authorities to introduce the art of bullfighting to Canada.

Vincent said he would get the bulls from Mexico and the toradors from both Mexico and Spain and try to stage his fights in Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto, Three Rivers, Que., and Quebec City.

Saying that he intended the pastime as a demonstration of "bonne entente" between Spain and Canada, he said the only doubtful factor, besides signing up the local grandstands, was the attitude of the Canadian Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals toward the sport.

Lloyd Cann In Smart Mound Performance To Blank Eagles

Lloyd Cann, veteran knuckleball star of the Canadian Legion senior baseball nine, came up with another pitching masterpiece last night when he blanked the Eagles 3 to 0 to move the veterans to within one game of first place.

Although touched for eight hits while his mates were garnering but five from the offerings of Stan Davies, Cann was tough in the clutch, leaving nine birdmen stranded on the base paths.

Vets took a one-run lead in the third inning with Wright, who had walked, scoring on an error by Kit Carson, Eagles' catcher.

They tallied their second run in the fifth on a walk, Cann's single and an infield out.

Final tally came in the first of the ninth with Castner circling the bags after opening the frame with a single.

Legion turned in an errorless game afield while Eagles were charged with three bobbles, two of them accounting for two runs. Top sticker of the night was Art Worth, Eagles' substitute first sacker, who picked up three for four. Verne Evans and Doug Malcom of the losers each had two singles.

Lost For 7 Days,
Bushman To Quit

GERALDTON, Ont. (CP)—

Omer Lamontagne, 41, an experienced bushman who was lost for seven days in Geraldton area, said in the hospital at Little Long Lac he is through with the bush forever.

Lamontagne plunged into the bush from the Trans-Canada Highway June 22 to make, his way to a logging camp where he was employed. He became lost and wandered for seven days without food, plagued by black flies and mosquitoes.

"I completely lost consciousness for a couple of days, I guess, because I don't remember anything for that period," said Lamontagne.

On June 29, Jack and Bob Hendry and Hamilton McDonnell discovered Lamontagne on the shore of Pagwachuan Lake, 20 miles east of here. A forestry airplane took him to Little Long Lac Hospital.

"I have had three accidents in the bush now and one of them cost me the sight of an eye," Lamontagne said. "I will never go back."

DOMINION THEATRE

In contrast to the usual "born to the saddle" cowboy, Republic's Roy Rogers, popular "King of Cowboys," was born in Cincinnati, but went west after he finished school to found the "Sons of the Pioneers" cowboy band.

On the strength of his success with this organization he was signed by Republic in 1938 to star in his own western series.

He has made nearly 50 pictures since then, his latest being "Hands Across the Border," which will open tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre for a three-day engagement.

ROYAL THEATRE

For her role in Paramount's "Calcutta," currently at the Royal Theatre, actress Edith King had just about to double her size. The part called for a "huge, fat, imposing woman," and to accomplish these specifications, Miss King, a trim 16, had herself built up with padding. The thing Miss King fears most at the moment is that she will now be typed by Hollywood as "the fat woman."

"Calcutta," a murder-mystery with an Indian locale, co-stars Alan Ladd, Gail Russell and William Bendix.

Hollywood

MOVIE HAS SIDESHOW HEADACHES

By Erskine Johnson
HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — Mike Mazurki, the wrestler turned actor, will have a beautifying operation on his cauliflower ear. The influence, no doubt, of his first romantic role in "Nightmare Alley." The censors, incidentally, objected to a scene in this film in which Coleen Gray and Ty Power run an "indecent show" in a carnival. It's okay now. They get arrested.

This is the film in which Power starts out as a carnival barker, becomes a famous mind reader in cafe society and then, double-crossed by a gal, returns to the carnival as a geek.

A geek is a guy who bites the heads off chickens to entertain customers. "Body of a man—soul of a beast," is the way chicken-biter Ty is billed.

An old carnival man, Ed Mundy, is helping supervise the carnival stuff for the picture. There's a fire-eater, a thin man, and a fat lady, Jollie Nellie. Nellie weighs 614 pounds and has been in show business for 16 years.

NO BEARDED LADY

Mundy gave a sigh of relief when he found the studio wouldn't need a bearded lady. His last experience with one, for an M-G-M film, was disastrous. Ed located America's most famous bearded lady and brought her to Hollywood.

"She was getting a little old," he said, "and her beard was greying around the edges. But they gave her a screen test and the studio said she was just what they wanted. Then the dame double-crossed me. Darned if she didn't go to a beauty salon and have her beard dyed black and all curled up."

"I asked her why she did it, and she said that she wanted to look glamorous for my film debut."

Producer George Jessel figured it would help the picture if he could get a real geek for the carnival scenes. But the studio nixed the idea. "The trouble was," said Jessel, "that they were afraid he'd get out here in Hollywood and become a producer."

Transportation's advance in the past 61 years is graphically shown in this picture from the Long Beach, Calif., Port-O-Trade Exposition, as the ultra-modern helicopter carrying visitors around the harbor hovers over the Pacific Queen, a clipper built in 1886 for the Honolulu-to-New York sugar trade. Arrow points to a dummy hanging from the clipper's yardarm, apparently a demonstration of old-time marine law in operation.

cing Orson Welles are all typed up and in her attorney's office. She'll sign 'em the day she lands in Hollywood.

Now it's Rex Harrison who would like to do a western. Currently he's a Louisiana gambler in "The Foxes of Harrow."

They finally changed that title. "Scudda Hoo, Scudda Hay" will be released as "Summer Lightning."

Glenn Ford gets the lead opposite Ginger Rogers in "Wild Calendar."

Puzzle Department: Loretta Young and Cary Grant tiffing on the set of "The Bishop's Wife?"

After 20 years of getting his name, via signs, in all of Sam Goldwyn's movies, Prop Man Irving Sandler gets himself in the new Danny Kaye flicker, "That's Life." He'll play a walk-on in a crowd scene.

Many Combines Needed For Wheat Crop Of Kansas

McPHERSON, Kas. (AP)—Harvesting of Kansas' greatest wheat crop hit a snag today.

An estimated 278,000,000 bushels of golden grain in this year's crop is ready for harvest, but there aren't enough combines on hand to cut it.

If ripe wheat isn't cut quickly the grain shatters and some is lost.

There are many combines in this area, but aren't in the field. Long queues were on the highways for northern Kansas and Nebraska. Their owners were hurrying home to harvest their own wheat. Others were in the former "dust bowl" of Oklahoma, Texas and southern Kansas, where rains have delayed the harvest.

Normally, northern farmers do contract combining in the south and get home in time to cut their own grain.

This year the late harvest has disrupted their schedule and many a Kansas wheat farmer who depends on transients has a furrowed brow.

It's a big problem. Consider the case of John Kriss of Colby, in northwestern Kansas:

He has 50,000 acres. Just a mere 78 square miles of rippling wheat. He says it will make 20 bushels to the acre or better—somewhere in the neighborhood of a million bushels worth about $2,000,000 in the bin. It will take 200 combines 10 days to harvest the wheat on his tenanted farms. He hasn't been able to muster that many yet.

Down on the Kansas-Oklahoma border the story is the same. That area could use 1,000 combines right now.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Macdonald Carey, featured in Paramount's "Suddenly It's Spring," the Fred MacMurray-Paulette Goddard starrer now at the Capitol Theatre, is helping to organize a U.S. Marine Reserve Officers' Club in Hollywood.

The club, which has no name as yet, would include such former marines as Tyrone Power, Glenn Ford, Stirling Hayden and Louis Hayward.

World Press Emphasizes Breach Made By Failure Of Paris Talks

LONDON (CP)—The British press today declared itself overwhelmingly in favor of Britain and France going ahead with a program for western Europe under the aid-to-Europe plan, as a result of Wednesday night's failure of the Big Three Paris conference.

The influential Times of London said in an editorial: "Mr. Molotov was not rejecting a cut-and-dried plan, for none really existed, but simply a proposal that the whole of Europe should do together what the countries of western Europe must now perform undertake separately."

"It now remains for western Europe to pursue alone, as it must pursue with resolution and vigor, a new program for making the best use of American aid."

The Paris Presse, a left of centre publication, viewed the breakup of the conference as a sinister development and declared that July 2, 1947, would go down as the most important date of contemporary history.

"The bridges are cut and so is the world, by the same blow," the paper said. "From now on the economic and political struggle between the two blocs is under way."

The Paris Communist paper Ce Soir commented:

"The conference of the three degenerates into a Bevin-Bidault dialogue. Will our diplomacy steer toward a new Munich?"

BREACH MADE CLEAR

NEW YORK (CP)—The New York Times in its leading editorial today bitterly attacked Russia's rejection of the Marshall aid-Europe plan which doomed the Paris conference to failure, but said this time "failure is both more hopeful and more hazardous."

"It is more hopeful because, for once, Russia is unable to veto a project undertaken by the western powers and endorsed by the neutral world and even by some of Russia's own satellites.

"On the other hand, the failure at Paris is also more hazardous because it has further widened the breach between Russia and the west, and may prove to have been the beginning of the final parting of the ways. For while the western powers proceed to organize their world for economic recovery, it must also be expected that Russia will either intensify her own efforts to undermine . . . and to break up any 'western block' by any and every means at her disposal . . ."

NO MOSCOW COMMENT

MOSCOW (AP)—Moscow newspapers devoted considerable space today to the closing of the three-power Foreign Ministers' conference in Paris on the Marshall proposal for European economic recovery, but there was no editorial comment—yet.

The news from Paris was divided into three classifications in the Moscow papers:

1. Foreign Minister Molotov's final statement, which rejected the French-British proposals and warned against going ahead without the Soviet Union.

2. The British-French proposal for a steering committee to work out details under the Marshall suggestions.

3. The closing of the conference, of which the papers said: "The final contradiction in the views of England and France on the one hand and the Soviet Union on the other was revealed."

The conference breakdown surprised few if any in the United States, British and French embassies here. Embassy sources had predicted from the beginning that Russia would decline to participate in a program as envisaged by the other powers. They also had predicted that other powers would go ahead without Russia.

Labor Calls For Radio Time On Independents

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Congress of Labor in a letter today to the radio committee of the Commons said, "Our experience has convinced us that while the independent radio stations and the Canadian Association of Broadcasters have indulged in a lengthy campaign of condemnation of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, a large number of independent stations are not fulfilling their obligations to perform community service."

The letter, signed by Pat Conroy, secretary-treasurer of the C.C.L., added:

"We believe that whether publicly-owned or privately-owned, radio stations should perform a service to the community, and we are taking this opportunity to request your committee to take the necessary steps so that action will be taken by the appropriate authorities to see to it that independent stations give liberal service to the community, or at least a service complementary to the in-lip-service they have given to their own virtues while condemning the CBC."

As labor represented a "substantial" section of the radio public, the C.C.L. felt that all stations, both those operated by the CBC and those independently owned, have an obligation to make definite provisions for the views of legitimate labor groups to be heard.

The CBC had recently inaugurated a series of programs entitled "Labor and Business Take Stock," in which equal opportunity was given labor and management to discuss matters of current interest.

While this program gave C.C.L. representatives only 6 1/2 minutes every two weeks, the congress felt it was a move in the right direction and was hopeful the program would be extended.

"On the other hand, the reception that labor has been accorded by independent stations in response to our requests for opportunities of this nature has, with a few notable exceptions, been far less favorable than that accorded by the CBC, said the letter.

Oak Bay Playfields

The activities of the Oak Bay playgrounds are underway for July. Under the supervision of Mrs. W. E. Cockell and assistant supervisor, Diana Jackson, at Windsor Park, and Mr. L. J. Clark and assistant supervisor, Joan Challoner, at Willows Park, many children are enjoying the play and educational instruction in the open air.

"Among the activities for which the children register are: Softball, volleyball, tumbling, clay modelling, play acting, folk dancing, finger painting, boxing, hikes, story telling, rhythm band, flower arrangement and junior carpentry."

Special instructors include Mrs. Connie Sigrist, Mrs. E. Costain, Miss Betsy Cook, W. Dazell and Paul King.

Registration forms may be obtained at Willows or at Windsor Park or from the secretary, Mrs. H. A. Beckwith.

Former residents of Belleville, Ont., have been invited by Mayor F. S. Follwell to attend "Old Home Week," July 14 to 19, during which an extensive program has been planned for old-timers.

Job facing President Truman's new five-man air safety-board is to prevent any more commercial airline crashes in the U.S., whose major causes are pictured at right. In only four crashes so far this year the death toll is 152 passengers—more than double the fatalities for 1946 and in less than half the passenger miles flown last year. "Passenger mile" means one passenger carried one mile.

In other words, while only one passenger was killed for every 80,000,000 passenger miles flown last year, the count so far this year is one death in every 16,500,000 passenger miles.

Below are charted actual passenger fatalities and fatalities per 100,000,000 passenger miles flown for a 10-year period. Figures are based on U.S. Civil Aeronautics Board statistics and refer only to U.S. flights.

FATALITIES (per 100 million passenger miles flown)

PASSENGER FATALITIES

PILOT ERROR: Experts say up to 70 per cent of commercial plane crashes are due to this.

BAD WEATHER CONDITIONS: Poor visibility, shifting winds, heavy storm and fog.

FAULTY EQUIPMENT: Such things as defective tail assembly and altimeter failings.

RADIO BEAM FAILURE: Plane off course with no airways radio range beacon to guide it.

Hot Composition

Camera fans will do well to study the rare composition in the dramatic photo above, taken by Francis Miller, Houston Press staff photographer, at a recent $75,000 industrial plant fire there. Note how group in foreground is repeated, in reverse, by silhouetted figures in background. Kinked hose looped about nozzleman's feet is not very good firemanship, but it makes an interesting element in the composition.

Power Of Lords May Be Issue In Next British Election

LONDON (CP)—Labor Party sources said today that while they were on the alert to safeguard the Socialist program from delays in the Conservative-dominated House of Lords, they questioned if a showdown constitutional battle would be fought to a finish before the 1950 general election.

Labor strategists are pondering methods of obtaining passage of present legislation if the Lords object and also further steps they might take, if re-elected in 1950, to limit the Lords' powers for good.

Within the party there is a division of opinion on a permanent policy for the Lords. At the moment the system of "life peers" is understood to have considerable support.

It would mean members of the upper house would be appointed for life in honor of public service or their value to the state as advisers. Their titles would not pass to their children.

Whether the system of "life peers" could be fitted into the present organizations of hereditary peers, most of whom never attend a Lords debate, remains to be decided.

Some Labor elements would have the government go further and fight the 1950 election on a proposal to eliminate the Lords as a body passing on legislation and substitute an upper chamber like a Senate with elected members serving for long periods.

COULD APPOINT HUNDREDS
Both the Commons and the Lords know that the lower house can deal with the whole situation by the radical step of appointing hundreds of peers who would carry through any legislation in the upper house and at the same time make a mockery of the honor of peerage.

This has been considered in the past by Liberal administrations and could be the last resort of a Labor administration driven to action by Conservative opposition in the House of Lords.

File Appeal On Narcotics Charges

Notices of appeal were filed here today in behalf of Elmer Elliott and Louis Rossi, convicted in Vancouver last Saturday on two charges of illegal possession of narcotics.

Elliott was sentenced to five years and Rossi to four, and each was fined $500 on each count with an alternative of an additional six months in prison.

A. G. Duncan Crux, who filed the appeal for Elliott was one of two defence counsel who walked from the court after a verbal tilt with Mr. Justice A. M. Manson. He listed 18 grounds for appeal.

He charged the judge had wrongfully commenced the trial in the absence of defence counsel, and that the judge was biased and prejudiced.

A. E. Blanco, the other lawyer who walked out of court, filed the appeal for Rossi, listing 13 grounds.

The appeals will come up at the next sitting of the Appeal Court, due to start Sept. 9.

Veteran C.P.R. Man Dies In Hospital

LATE WILLIAM BELL

William Bell, 71, of 1070 Transit Road, who retired in December, 1940, as assistant purchasing agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, died in Royal Jubilee Hospital Wednesday night, after an illness of three weeks.

A railway career stretching for nearly 54 years and from his native Toronto to the Pacific coast made him known to thousands, not only in Victoria but all across the Dominion.

He entered the Canadian Pacific Railway directly from school and stayed with the company throughout his life. His years of continuous service were considered a record. He joined the company as an office boy in the general passenger agent's office in Montreal, later becoming private secretary to the general superintendent at Montreal, inspector of the sleeping and dining-car department in Montreal, and superintendent of the sleeping and dining-car department in Winnipeg.

When a purchasing department was established on the Pacific coast shortly before the First World War, Mr. Bell was placed in charge of the Victoria district office of that department, remaining here until he left for overseas service in the Great War.

He returned to Canada with the rank of captain, went to the purchasing department, at Calgary and Vancouver, and returned to the purchasing department in Victoria in July, 1927, and remained here after his retirement in 1940.

The late Mr. Bell was as well known to the commercial trade as in railroad circles, for his duties involved purchases for the Canadian Pacific's B.C. Coast Service, the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway, the Crystal Garden and Empress Hotel, New-castle Island, the Canadian Pacific's summer resort in Nanaimo Harbor, and to some extent, purchases for the Canadian Pacific Express liners and the ships of the Canadian Australasian Line.

Following his retirement, he pursued his hobbies of golf, gardening and fishing.

Besides his widow at the family residence, 1070 Transit Road, he leaves one son, Gordon Watson Bell, and two grandchildren, all of Victoria.

Hayward's B.C. Funeral Co. are in charge of funeral arrangements.

The funeral service will be held Saturday afternoon at 2. Cremation will follow at Royal Oak.

B. H. Hetherington of Victoria, won honors by passing first in the first-year class in the University of Toronto faculty of medicine examinations. J. S. Earle passed the second-year examination.

Zenith Jumps More Than 5 Points

NEW YORK (AP)—Spurred by further short covering and investment purchasing, the stock market today resumed the upswing after considerable forenoon irregularity due to profit cashing on the lengthy advance. It was the seventh successive forward move.

Zenith Radio jumped better than five points on word the concern was working on a new type of television. At 1947 tops were Union Pacific, Nickel Plate pfd., Phillips Petroleum, Gulf Oil, Superior Oil, Texas Pacific Land Trust, Joy Mfg. and Pepsi-Cola.

Distillers Seagrams, up 1/2 at mid-day, was the only feature in the Canadian group.
